From Their Majesties

Greetings to the people of Ealdormere,

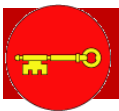

Winter has finally passed, and the trilliums are now blooming throughout the quiet woods. In June, we will gather for camping at Murder Melee. We are excited to explore the new site.

Later in June, at the Lady Mary Tournament, We look forward to celebrating the noble deeds, honour and courtesy of all participants. Also at Lady Mary, We will confer and hear the council of Our Order of Defense and Our Order of Chivalry.

We remind those seeking to show deeds of valour that qualifying tournaments for the Fire Horse Tourney will be held both at Murder Melee and Lady Mary. Another qualifying round is also scheduled to be hosted at Trillium War. While We regret that travelling obligations will prevent Our attendance at Trillium War, We are confident that reports of your valiant achievements will reach Our ears.

We were saddened to hear about the damage sustained by the Beltaines site. His Majesty, along with many in Ealdormere, remain hopeful the event can still occur. We extend Our sympathies to the site's owners and wish them a swift recovery from their losses.

In service to Ealdormere,
Their Majesties
King Crispin and Queen Laura

From The Kingdom Earl Marshal

Hello from my estates of Hundehugel.

As a reminder the new Armoured Combat handbook is live. You can find a link in the Ealdormere library. This new handbook replaces the old Society handbook and incorporates all Ealdormere rules that differ from Society.

I also remind you to check your authorizations online (<https://ealdormere.ca/ealdormere-authorizations/>) to be sure that your authorizations are accurate. Take a moment to look at your authorization cards and ensure that you are not expired.

Also look at the online marshal list (<https://ealdormere.ca/ealdormere-marshals/>), to ensure you are listed if you are a warranted Marshal. If there are issues, please reach out to the MOL (ealdormere.mol@gmail.com) to have those issues corrected.

The summer months are coming and now is a time to revisit our heat guidelines. Marshals in Charge must be follow them:

Canada uses "Humidex", America uses "Heat Index". The 2 systems are not identical; a location can have a different humidex or heat index reading.

1. Ealdormere follows the recommendation of Environment Canada and the Humidex range and degree of comfort chart
2. On hot days the humidex or heat index must be determined prior to any fighting starting, including pick-ups.

3. If either the heat index or humidex reaches 40 degrees Celsius, all martial activity on tourney and melee fields will stop.
4. No discussion or notification to the Crowns is required by the marshals: the marshals will end the fighting.
5. Activity may resume when the humidex or heat index drops below 40c if the marshal-in-charge thinks it is safe to fight.
6. Only the marshal-in-charge can reopen the fields.

While wildfires are not impacting us currently, Ealdormere does have air quality guidelines and Marshals in Charge need to be aware of them too:

1. Ealdormere follows the recommendation of Environment Canada and the Air Quality Health Index
  2. On smoggy days if fighting is outside the air quality must be determined prior to any fighting starting, including pick-ups.
  3. Air Quality Health Index is High (a range of 7 -10) all martial activity on tourney and melee fields will stop.
  4. No discussion or notification to the Crowns is required by the marshals: the marshals will end the fighting.
  5. Activity may resume when the air quality index drops below high (7-10) if the marshal-in-charge thinks it is safe to fight.
  6. Only the marshal-in-charge can reopen the fields
- Stay safe, have fun.
Elizabeth

From The Kingdom Arts & Sciences Minister

Greetings to all from Siglinde Harfnerstochter, MoAS.

My time in this office is drawing to a close and I am seeking applicants to replace me. This is the best job on Privy Council as you get to find out what everyone is doing to make the Middle Ages come alive and fulfill the objectives of the SCA.

The role has two key functions: reporting to the Society MoAS every quarter, using information on the state of arts and sciences provided by local officers; and organizing the annual Kingdom Arts and Sciences competition and Pentathlon.

I will provide you with guidance on what has worked best for me, and will be available to assist with running Kingdom A&S.

If you are interested, please contact me at ealdormere.kmoas@gmail.com and tell me a bit about why you think you would be a good fit for the job. Deadline for applications is June 15, 2026.

YIS,
Siglinde

Brand

From The Kingdom Lawspeaker

Greetings unto the Wonderful Populace of Ealdormere.

It is encouraging that the days are getting longer, and the temperature is indeed climbing. As I settle into the office of Lawspeaker I am reflecting on what the history is of this role. I invite previous Lawspeakers to share their stories with me, what it meant to be Lawspeaker for you. As I gather these tales, I will be preparing a written collection to pass on to the next Lawspeaker when the time comes. Our roots should never be lost to the mists of time.

The Lawspeaker webpage is also updated with a list of the upcoming events that I will be at, Moots etc. Go check it out: Lawspeaker - Kingdom of Ealdormere

A Moot Announcement - The next Moot will be held at Murder Melee XLI, Friday, June 5, 4:00 PM. The location is yet to be decided. An additional announcement will be made when the location is chosen. Please have your questions emailed to me no later than Wednesday, June 3rd.

In Service,

Liör Lang-Akason
Lawspeaker, Ealdormere

Kingdom of Ealdormere : Line of the North (Partial)

Hear me, Hear me, King Crispin and Queen Laura , 74th of the land's sovereigns, 53rd of the names of your line, and marvel at the glory of the north!

Before you sat King Tristham, hammer-swift lord and Anneke, kind to kith and kin.

Before you sat King Gannicus, thrice-marked Northman, and Maegwynn who comes bearing gifts.

Before you sat King Crispin I, master of the bridge, and Anne, who wanders in emerald meadows.

Before you sat King Evander II, trusted and trusting, and Marioun II, banner flowing free and strong.

Before you sat King Baldric II, the golden-hearted, and Breylla II, welcoming all to her domain.

Before you sat King Steinnar II, eyes cast far afield, and Margraig, giving from garden and glen.

Before him sat Queen Kaylah V, Sun-Queen, shining her light to all corners of the kingdom, and Trumbrand V, Hearth-King

Before her sat King Roak VII, sure-handed steersman sailing before the winter gale, and Hyrrokin II, calling us home.

Before him sat King Rattanicus the constant north star, and Isabel, the lucent moon, guiding us through the night.

Before him sat Queen Kaylah IV, sovereign by her own hand, beautiful and inevitable as the dawn, and Trumbrand IV, eyes cast to the sun.

Before her sat King Roak VI, wise as the elk, unchanging as the oak, and Hyrrokin I, the welcome summer breeze

Before him sat King Evander, hand set to virtue, and Marioun, hospitality and heart overflowing

Before him sat King Baldric I, gift giver to the wolf pack, and Breylla I, her laughter ringing upon the list.

Then came the time of the second decade of our Kingdom of Ealdormere, with our sovereigns right mindful of their birthright, standing tall and proud.

Then sat King Edward III, long striding master of the hall and Rylyn III, keen eyed towards the order of things.

Before him sat King Quilliam IV, soft spoken liege, and Tangwystl, wolf queen at last come home.

Before him sat King Siegfried II, arms bare and hands open, beside Xristina, ever elegant.

Before him sat King Nigel III, keeper of treasures, and Adrielle III, Iron Queen of distant lands, her gifts most precious.

Before him sat King Quilliam III, wave-washed, and Domhnail II, crafting her kingdom.

Before him sat King Steinnar, his back to sunset, and Liðr, twice-chosen.

Before him sat King Trumbrand III who counts autumn's bounty and Kaylah III firm in resolve.

Before him sat King Siegfried I, whose sword deals justice, beside Ragni, hall-hostess.

Before him sat King Nigel II, who holds what is taken, and Adrielle II, most diligent.

Before him sat King Trumbrand II, Harrow of the Summer Field, and Kaylah II, who ever steps forward.

Before him sat King Roak V, Pathfinder in the Northern Wilds, and Elizabeth, drawn to the sea.

Before him sat King Edward II, whose sword well serves, beside Rylyn II, who dreams bright dreams.

Before him sat King Quilliam II, upon whom the waves break, and Dagmar II, keeper of songs.

Before him sat King Aaron IV, who sows life to meadow and mountain, and Rustique IV, who walked a stony road.

Before him sat King Etain II, who exceeds his promises, and Valfreya II, lodestone of her land.

Before him sat King Quilliam I, Skald-King, bright beacon on the North shore, and Dagmar I, most faithful friend.

Before him sat King Nigel I, reiver richly rewarded, and Adrielle II the predestined.

Before him sat King Roak IV, his saddle a throne, and Jocea II, her bright sword unsheathed.

Before him sat King Etain I, called Etain the Proud, transfused with glory, and Valfreya I, who knows not her own merits.

Before him sat King Aaron III, whose tread shakes the Northland, and Rustique III, fruitful and well-loved.

Then our lineage is traced back to the first decade of our kingdom, when our crowns were new, and traditions were crafted afresh.

Then sat King Trumbrand I, oath-holder, and Kaylah I of smiles and laughter.

Before him sat King Edouard IV, enthroned in splendour, and Domhnail I, bone-hewer.

Before him sat King Roak III, close holding his homeland, and Jocea I, who bears a sheathed sword.

Before him sat King Aaron II, who holds his land with grace, and Rustique II, who laughs to lead.

Before him sat King Edward I, of the wise gaze, and Rylyn I, wolf-mother.

Before him sat King Edouard III, who knows not dusk, and Genevieve II, of the open eyes.

Before him sat King Malik, who strides the shifting sands, and Genevieve d'Anjou, twice blessed and blessing.

Before him sat King Berus II, who steers by his own stars, and Marion II, summer's well-spring.

Before him sat King Cennedi, lion destined to roar, and Susanna the thrice-proud.

Before him sat King Edouard II, who weighs his own balance, and Genevieve I, who asks and listens.

Before him sat King Roak II, come far for his birthright, and Arlette, compassionate on the glory field.

Before him sat King Sarnac, who rode to the saltless sea, and Joleicia, spring sun on ice.

Before him sat King Aaron I, baying hound of the wolf-pack, and Rustique I, faithful servant now served.

Before him sat King Roak I, the far-rider, and Carlotta, who keeps her own counsel.

Before him sat King Berus I, carved like linden, and Marion I, daughter of the raven.

Before him sat King Edouard I, who has ruled the lands of the sunrise, and Eanor of the old blood.

Before him sat King Kildare, who knows his own mind, and Josephine of the nimble fingers.

Before him sat King Osis, who reigned too few days, and Caitlin, whose tears quenched rich soil.

Before him sat King David the Greater, first King of the North, free as the deer, and Elina of the night fires.
