From Their Royal Majesties

Unto the populace of glorious Caid do We, Wilhelm and Lorissa, King and Queen of these fair lands, send greetings, warmth, and Our abiding affection.

As the wheel of the seasons turns once more across the sunlit lands of Our Kingdom, We find Ourselves filled with gratitude for the people who breathe life into the Dream. In every hall lit by candlelight, upon every tournament field, beneath every pavilion, and within every song shared around the fire, the heart of Caid beats strong because of you.

In recent weeks, We have had the joy and honor of witnessing the spirit of Our Kingdom shine brightly across many gatherings.

At the Anniversary of the Barony of Lyodemere, We celebrated not merely the passing of years, but the enduring legacy of one of the great pillars of Our Kingdom. Lyodemere has long stood as a beacon of courtesy, prowess, and noble hospitality. To walk among its people is to be reminded that the Dream is not built from castles of stone, but from the fellowship and dedication of those who gather beneath its banners. Thank you to everyone who worked so hard to make the celebration worthy of its storied history.

Likewise did We rejoice at the Anniversary of the Barony of Gyldenholt, whose warmth and generosity continue to enrich the tapestry of Caid. There is a particular magic found in the gathering of friends, old and new, beneath familiar banners, where laughter mingles with the clash of arms and the beauty of artisanship. Gyldenholt reminds Us always that community itself is among the greatest treasures Our Society possesses.

At the St. Jude Charity Tournament, We were deeply moved by the generosity and compassion shown by the people of this Kingdom. The strength of Caid has never rested solely in martial prowess or noble ceremony, but in the willingness of its people to lift one another in times of need. To see fighters take the field, artisans contribute their talents, and gentles open their hearts in support of such a worthy cause filled us with immense pride. In such moments, the Dream reaches beyond recreation and becomes something profoundly human.

And at Crescent Artisan, We were once again reminded that the arts are the soul of Our Society. Every stitch sewn, every brushstroke laid, every forged piece of metal, every carefully researched work offered for display stands as a bridge between past and present. The artisans of Caid do not merely recreate history — they preserve wonder. Your work inspires not only admiration but also the continued pursuit of excellence throughout the Kingdom.

Know this, beloved populace: the greatness of Caid is not measured in crowns, thrones, or victories won upon the field. It is measured in the kindness shown in camp kitchens, the patience of teachers guiding newcomers, the laughter shared beneath lantern light, the songs raised in companionship, and the willingness to labor so that others may experience joy.

These things are the true jewels of the Kingdom.

As We continue this journey together, We ask that each of you carry forward that spirit of generosity, inspiration, and fellowship. Invite newcomers to your fires. Teach what you know. Lift those who struggle. Celebrate one another's triumphs. In doing so, you strengthen not only your local groups but the very heart of Caid itself.

Until We meet again upon the roads and fields of the Known World, know that We remain ever proud to reign over so noble and vibrant a people.

Given by Our hands and hearts,
Your Crown of Caid,

Wilhelm
Rex

Lorissa
Regina

From the Kingdom Seneschal

Greetings, Caid!

June means that our tournament season is in full bloom. As you join us at any of the numerous events this summer, take joy in the living tapestry of our shared history. Invite newcomers to spend the day enjoying the chivalric lists and courtly pageantry. Support the marshalate, heralds and event staff who make the days run smoothly. On a special note, take the time to join the artisans from around the kingdom in the Arts and Sciences salon at every event. Attend a bardic circle, a scribal demo, or a sewing day to learn and share craft and courtesy.

Every art shared with joy, every bout fought with honor, and every new friendship sustains the traditions that make the Kingdom of Caid thrive.

In service to the Crown, Kingdom and Society,
Sir Philip
Kingdom Seneschal

From the Kingdom Chronicler

Greetings, Caid!

It is that time of year again; when the temperature has no idea what it wants to do, summer break is here for many of our younger players, and we round out our anniversary celebrations for our illustrious baronies. Not to mention, we can celebrate the emergence of our new heirs and Coronation is just around the corner. But I get ahead of myself. This time of year is a great way to show appreciation for the different baronies that make up our great kingdom. For the different people who make up our great kingdom. Celebrating the anniversaries when able.

Furthermore, I am not just looking forward to the celebratory events but I am also excited about the Arts & Science events this month. I don't think I have had the pleasure of going to a Crescent Artisan event. And it is always awe-inspiring to see the creative works that our populace comes up with. Not to mention the classes; informative and entertaining. So, if you haven't taken a class at an event like this then I implore that you do.

I look forward to seeing you all out and enjoying yourselves.

In Service to Crown, Kingdom, and Society,
Lady Amoða Kristinsdottir
Kingdom Chronicler of Caid
