With great joy and deep humility, we send greetings in this month of our Coronation. We are honored by the faith you have placed in us and are excited to begin this journey together.

Having both been raised within her traditions, we strive to respect and honor the rich history of Ansteorra that has shaped us- preserving our past while guiding our kingdom toward a bright future. May our reign reflect the very best of Ansteorra- its courage, generosity, and community.

We look forward to serving the Sable Star faithfully, together.

All our best,

Kingdom Exchequer

Greetings Ansteorra,

We are still looking for a Central Regional Exchequer. Please think about volunteering. You do not need to be in the region to hold this position as it is all done via email/google. If you are curious about the job, please feel free to reach out to me to discuss it before submitting an application.

Having just spent the weekend working as the gate coordinator and using a money counter to help with shift count reporting, I highly recommend that groups look into purchasing one to use at their events for your gate coordinators and the exchequer. Amazon carries these wonderful tools. A battery pack (Jackery battery) can be used to power this if the site doesn't have power.

If you have the time, please think about volunteering for a shift at your next event. The gate coordinator is the default person to cover if someone isn't able to make their shift or if no one signed up. They want to enjoy the event too, but they can't if they're stuck at the gate. So if you take some time to sit a shift, it might make it so they can go visit a friend, have words with someone sitting vigil, watch the fighting, see some of the H&S displays or just go enjoy the pageantry of the Dream. In doing so you will be doing them a great kindness.

Next time you go to an event, pause, turn for a moment and look at what a gate worker sees across from them. Trust me, the view is usually not that glamorous unless people are there waiting to troll in and then imagine sitting there for hours staring at that view while everyone else is having fun.

If you have not had any gate training, most coordinators can train you once you show up for your shift. Only adult paid members may handle the cash box, so keep this in mind.

Children are welcome to help assist at the gate provided they are with a parent or guardian. Even the younger children are welcome, they are great at handing out site tokens.

If you have physical limitations, gate is a great way to work the event. You get a seat and an opportunity to put faces to names and greet everyone with a smile and hello to start their event off right!

I look forward to seeing all of you at the next event!

Kingdom Earl Marshal

As we progress from Spring to Summer, please remember to hydrate!

Do you dream of joining the ranks of the marshalate but don't participate? Not a problem! No one has to participate in martial activities to be a marshal. If you are interested, please contact a local or regional marshal of your desired discipline for more information.

Gulf War was a great success and well attended. Things are in the works for making next year even better!

In service,

Absolon, Ansteorra Earl Marshal

Kingdom DEIB

Greetings from your Kingdom DEIB Officer!

I'd like to make this month's missive a challenge! I would like to challenge the Event Stewards of the Kingdom to be aware of those good gentles who might benefit from seating arrangements closer to Court.

We have brought this up with CRM, Their Stellar Highnesses, and Their Sanguine Highnesses....and They are all in agreement and excited to see this happen!

I am writing to you to pass along a discussion that was had in the DEIB class at Red Tape between myself and the Golden Bridge Herald, HL Valeria Marcella Peres De'Martinez. We were bouncing ideas off each other on how to help certain members of our populace with sight and hearing impairments have a better experience at Court.

As you may know, when the Voice Heralds announce, "Court in 10", or "Court is IMMINENT", there is a rush to fill the front rows and get as close as possible to be able to see and hear best. This oftentimes does not take into account those good gentles who may need assistance when it comes to "getting a good seat" or rather being close enough to hear or see what is going on in Court. If a Sign/Sight Herald is being used, it is exceptionally extra difficult to make sure that those with hearing impairments are seated in a position where they can see what is being signed.

With that being said, I would like to drop a small DEIB bug in your collective ears, and challenge you all to consider perhaps arranging a seating area near the front of Court for those individuals.

Perhaps, as Event Stewards, speak with your Heralds to facilitate this seating area, or make it known that an area will be available for those who need it.

Both myself and the DEIB Herald are available to assist in any way we can with bringing this to fruition, please do not hesitate to message myself at diversity@seneschal.ansteorra.org or HL Valeria at deib@herald.ansteorra.org for help.

The attached image is one that the Star Principal Herald and the Golden Bridge Herald use to let people know that there is a reserved space for those with accessibility considerations. Please consider leaving one at the Gate, and in any area you may reserve.

With much thanks, I remain in Service,

Mistress Sorcha Mac Culloch, OP

Ansteorra's DEIB Officer

Greetings!
