Words from the Crown

Unto the radiant Kingdom of Atenveldt do We, Craven and Elzbieta, send warm greetings beneath the ever-burning Sun.

As the long days of summer stretch before us, We wish for each of you glory in your deeds, laughter in your camps, and stardust to linger in your dreams. It is with eager hearts that We look forward to traversing every corner of Our beloved lands; walking beside you, learning your stories, and celebrating the bonds that make Atenveldt not merely a kingdom, but a chosen family.

Our journey will not end at Our borders. We anticipate venturing forth to distant lands, to stand among friends at wars such as Battlemore and Pennsic. Should any among you feel the call to travel but not yet know the road, We bid you reach out; no traveler of Atenveldt should feel they walk alone when the Sun lights their path.

In this reign, We continue a tradition long known among us: the bearing of the humble shovel. Not as a novelty, but as a symbol. For years, it has served as a quiet ward against that which weighs upon the spirit; negativity, discord, and the burdens we were never meant to carry alone. Whether borne in hand or worn as a token, it reminds us to clear the path before us, to lift one another, and when needed, to gently (or not so gently) set aside that which does not serve the Dream.

Let it be known that we proclaim the day of Our Champions Tournament as Super Hero Sunday. The populace is invited—nay, encouraged; to don the guise of heroes! Bring out your finest hero themed medieval clothing and let the fields be filled with symbols of lore as we celebrate in true Atenveldt fashion. After all, what is Our populace, if not a gathering of heroes?

As We begin this summer reign, We remain ever mindful: it is not the Crown that gives strength to Atenveldt, but its people. Ours is a kingdom of word and of will, yet it is your voices, your deeds, and your hearts that give those words meaning. Without you, there would be no joy to share, no love to carry beyond Our borders, no light to cast into the Known World.

And for those who have taken the time to read these words with care; should you cross Our path, We invite you to greet Us with the phrase: “The Sun shines brightest on well-tended ground.” In this, We shall know you have truly walked this message with Us and are ready to Shovel On!

So whether you bear steel, art, laughter, or simply a well-placed shovel, know that you are the very soul of this Kingdom.

With affection by our hands,

Craven

From the Society Seneschal

New addition of a “Policy on Generative Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Plagiarism” Commentary Request

We are asking for feedback on the addition of a “Policy on Generative Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Plagiarism” to the Corporate Policies of SCA, Inc.

Background:

There has been commentary and concerns sent to the Society regarding the use of AI in the SCA. In consultation with several of the Society Officers, a plan was formed to address these concerns. A policy was drafted and then sent out to the Kingdom officers to get their feedback in crafting an overarching corporate policy on AI. This is now presented to the membership for additional feedback to craft a policy that works for the SCA.

Purpose:

With the rise of generative AI use, and concerns about theft and use without consent, the Society is creating a policy to give guidelines on usage and to address current concerns.

Design:

The Policy on Generative Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Plagiarism is designed to give guidelines on the use of AI. It gives officers the means to address issues arising from the use of AI. The SCA is a volunteer organization, and it is not viable to have officers track down every instance of AI use that is in violation of this policy. If there are concerns about the use of AI, it can be reported to the appropriate Society Officer for review. This takes some of the burden off the volunteer and allows for a focused response to AI issues as they come up, which was one of the concerns by the officers.

The policy addresses generative AI art and text that creates unique content, preventing it from being used in official SCA spaces. It is a broad umbrella policy at the corporate level, and it will be further defined or restricted in handbooks such as A&S, Webminister, and Social Media. Handbooks are easier to change, and that flexibility is needed with dynamic situations. It minimizes restrictions for AI tools that are could be useful, relieving some of the lift for volunteers in the organization. Photo editing tools and use in coding are not prohibited. It also does not restrict use when used as accessibility and disability aids.

- A.1 Establishes that AI generated art cannot be created or modified and presented as an “original contribution” for SCA official use and SCA spaces.
- B.1 Establishes that “the unauthorized use, reproduction, or misrepresentation of another person’s or source’s work as one’s own is strictly prohibited.”
 - These two parts jointly are designed to prevent using generative AI art that is trained on stolen materials. This allows for AI use when they are ethically sourced.
- B.2. “Members must provide proper attribution when referencing or incorporating the work of others, including written, artistic, and research materials. This includes stating when AI is used.”
 - This part allows the use of AI when they are ethically sourced and properly cited.

Summary: Artificial Intelligence can be a powerful tool, especially in a volunteer organization. SCA officers have crafted a policy to provide guidance to navigate an issue that continues to raise concerns in the organization. This is a complex issue, and SCA Corporate would benefit from the various perspectives and insights of the community. The feedback from the membership would be greatly appreciated as we try to address these concerns.

XXI. Policy on Generative Artificial Intelligence (AI)

To ensure authenticity, originality, and integrity in creative and scholarly works associated with the Society, this policy outlines the rules for the use of generative artificial intelligence (AI). These rules do not apply to applications and software uses.

A. Generative Artificial Intelligence

- 1. The use of generative AI Art tools to create or modify works that are presented as original contributions in any official SCA capacity or on its official spaces is prohibited.
- 2. The use of generative AI Text tools to create or modify works in any official SCA capacity or on its official online spaces are acceptable for the following uses:
 - A. Generate first drafts of text
 - B. Summarize documents or meeting notes
 - C. Edit, proofread, or reformat existing content
 - D. Brainstorm ideas or create content outlines
 - E. Translate text between languages

B. Plagiarism

- 1. The unauthorized use, reproduction, or misrepresentation of another person’s or source’s work as one’s own is strictly prohibited.
- 2. Members must provide proper attribution when referencing or incorporating the work of others, including written, artistic, and research materials. This includes stating when AI is used.

C. Compliance and Enforcement

- 1. Violations of this policy may result in disqualification from competitions, removal of works from display or publication, removal from office, or other disciplinary actions as determined by the appropriate SCA Officers.
- 2. Violations of this policy may be reported to their Society Officer in their respective purview.
- 3. Society Officers may issue additional guidance within their areas of oversight.

Please email all commentary to sca-comments@sca.org, and use the title “AI Policy Addition – commentary” in the subject line. Commentary regarding this proposed policy addition must be received by the Board no later than May 27, 2026.

New Thrown Weapons Handbook Commentary Request

The Society Marshal and the Society Thrown Weapons Deputy are pleased to make available for commentary the approved draft of the new Thrown Weapons Handbook. Commentary will be accepted through May 28, 2026.

This new Thrown Weapons handbook is part of the ongoing modernization effort, which is updating ALL the marshal handbooks in conjunction with updates to the marshal related sections in Corpora. The goal is to better reflect the current structure, culture, and safety best practices we use today in our SCA martial activities.

One of the most significant changes is the modernized format, designed for easy online access and usability. With clear and common layouts, improved navigation, and consistency across all marshal handbooks, this new format makes it easier for both newcomers and experienced participants to find the information they need quickly and confidently.

https://society-rules.fullmesh.co.nz/index.php/Main_Page.

Also available at this site:

- A link to the online version of the proposed new handbook (PDF also available)
- Cliff notes on the Thrown Weapons Handbook, with a summary of the changes
- A FAQ on the overall rules moderation process, the new handbooks and format

Important Dates: A multi-month process for major changes to handbooks is being used to improve communication and transparency. The timeline is:

- March 28 thru May 28: Thrown Weapons Handbook is open for commentary. This version has been approved by the BoD for commentary for 60 days.
- March – May: Updates to the handbook will be developed based on the commentary.
- June 1: The new handbook, with updates resulting from received commentary, will be submitted to the BoD for final review and approval.
- June 20: The new Thrown Weapons handbooks will be in effect (if approved during the June BoD meeting). International affiliates will follow their processes/timelines.

Please email all commentary to marshal@sca.org and ThrownWeapons@sca.org, and use the title "New TW Handbook – commentary" in the subject line. CC'ing your Kingdom TW Deputy is highly recommended. Commentary must be received no later than May 28, 2026.
