From the Desk of the Kingdom Chronicler...

Please join me in welcoming two wonderfully talented ladies to the Chronicler staff. I am extremely pleased to report that Mistress Isabella D'Arques has agreed to take on the Deputy Kingdom Chronicler position and we are extremely excited to see what she has in mind for The Ambassador in the future. Also, please welcome THL Pippin Needle Fang, adding her formidable talents to humble newsletter.

YIS,

Master Robert the Just Kingdom Chronicler

From the Crown...

*Unto the beloved People of Gleann Abhann, from
We, the King and Queen,*

Know this, our cherished kin of river and vale: As the year turns and the holy tide of the holidays washes over our lands, our hearts are full to overflowing with gratitude and awe for you. In hearth lit halls and wind-swept fields alike, we see the strength of Gleann Abhann not in banners or steel alone, but in the love, laughter, and steadfast devotion of our people. You are the living soul of this kingdom, and it is by your hands and hearts that it endures. In this season of gathering, of warmth shared against the long nights, we are reminded how deeply we are empowered by one another. Every act of service freely given, every song raised, every kindness offered without thought of reward binds us tighter together. Through you, our kingdom stands renewed resilient, compassionate, and unbreakable.

Our eyes now turn toward the horizon and the coming of Gulf Wars, where once more Gleann Abhann shall walk forth as one. We look ahead with fierce joy and solemn pride, knowing that when our people assemble fighters, artisans, scholars, heralds, cooks, singers, and dreamers we become something greater than any single part. We go not merely to compete, but to represent who we are: a kingdom of unity, honor, and unyielding spirit. Stand tall, beloved Gleann Abhann. Carry the warmth of this season with you into the months ahead. Let it be a flame that lights our path to the battlefield, the lists, the camps, and the bonds of friendship renewed beneath the open sky.

Know always that you are loved. Know that you are seen. Know that together, there is nothing we cannot face. Given with full hearts and unwavering faith in our people,

We, the King and Queen of Gleann Abhann

“St Hildegard Coppers”

by Karin Georgsdottir

It was January of AS 35 (2000). Ian Cnulle, in the workshop of his cabin in the Barony of Terra Pomaria in the Kingdom of An Tir, leaned over a steel die into which he was engraving the rampant ram of the then Principality of Gleann Abhann.

The copper trade token produced from the die created by Cnulle (called Gregory Paul Franck-Weiby outside the society) today is known as type No. 24 of the St. Hildegard coppers. Then it was the latest of the copper trade tokens, this one in honor of Their Soon-To-Be Serene Highnesses Eric II and Christine.

“For the image I very literally copied a scan of the Principality's device from the Kingdom website,” Cnulle said in a letter to his father later in the year.

That includes the rampant ram not only being pizzled, but also having enormous testicles - as real rams do, I guess. The ram turned out rather lean looking (as ferocious heraldic beasts are supposed to), and perhaps not quite wooly enough, so a lot of people think it's a goat, despite the distinctive curled horns. The style of the design is more SCA heraldic than medieval (at least in terms of medieval style coin design). It's a nice composition and most people seem to think it's very pretty.

Cnulle's observations about the “Principality of Gleann Abhann” type are included as part of the newly published “St. Hildegard Coppers,” the first book ever about the popular trade minted over 13 years and that today has an international collector base.

https://www.amazon.com/Hildegard-Coppers-Gregory-Cnulle-Frank-Weiby/dp/B0FX1Q96VL/ref=sr_1_1

“St. Hildegard Coppers,” produced and edited by Arion the Wanderer (Dave Peters), today Minister of the Moneyers Guild of An Tir and once apprentice

ST. HILDEGARD COPPERS

Arion the Wanderer, Editor
With coin descriptions by Gregory Paul (“Ian Cnulle”) Franck-Weiby

to Cnulle, for the first time anywhere provides history of the coppers. “St. Hildegard Coppers” also includes memories of Cnulle written by those who knew him and includes – also for the first time anywhere – high-quality photos of each copper type above lightly edited descriptions written by Cnulle himself.

The first St. Hildegard coppers were produced by Cnulle, together with Watt Kidman (Walt Patrick), in November AS 27 (1992). Hot-struck on 1-inch diameter, 3/32-inch thick copper blanks, each copper weighed in at about 14 grams, a size with a delightful period heft and jingle in the hand and pouch. The coppers, traded at $1 face value, gained popularity among the populace and cooperating merchants to more forsoothly shop, trade and wager. The coppers' circulation spread throughout the known world, with an especially high profile at Gulf War.

The front of each copper bears the emblem of the University of St. Hildegard, named for the 12th Century German Abbess Hildegard of Bingen, with its highly recognizable “+H” surrounded by inscription “SANCTA HILDEGARDENSIS.” The University of St. Hildegard was an educational institution, organized in the SCA as a household, dedicated to the studying the arts and sciences of medieval life. “Hildegard was an intellectual leader of her time; her surviving writings reflect the political and social movements of her time, as well as a philosophy of religious mysticism arising out of spiritual visions she experienced," Cnulle said in a letter to his father.

The back of each copper type is unique, minted for kingdoms, royals, households, merchants and, on occasion, organizations outside the SCA.

The first coppers, which gave their popular name of "baraks" to the entire series, were struck in honor of Barak Ravensfuri, Lion of An Tir, Knight, Pelican and Royal Peer, one of the 11 Ravensfuri siblings.

Additional types include No. 18, the "Artemesia Kingdom Badge Type," struck in AS 34 (1999). There's also No. 16, "The Caravan of the High Silk Road," minted in AS 33 (1998) for an association of merchants trading in the lands east of the Mississippi river. Then there's the No. 20 "Pillaged Village" type, struck in AS 34 for a well-known SCAdian merchant, and the No. 22 "Year 34 Type: Water Bearers and Chiurgeons," struck for, as Cnulle said, "the contributions made by two key groups."

The die for the "Principality of Gleann Abhann" type took Cnulle more than 24 hours to complete. He was careful to include the then Principality's motto "HONOR ABOVE ALL," rather than the names of the Prince and Princess, at the request of Eric II and Christine. This was the first St. Hildegard Copper type to commemorate a principality. Gleann Abhann, then, was a Principality of the Kingdom of Meridies and would be for about five more years.

One of the most poignant of the coppers had been struck two years earlier for the Midrealm, in AS 33 (1998), to commemorate "Count Sir Jafar al Safah." Jafar had won Midrealm Crown Tournament the previous Fall and his upcoming coronation, his second, was planned for the coming spring. However, Jafar died unexpectedly that December, after a brief illness. His Consort, Kenna, was crowned and she reigned alone in his memory.

The final St. Hildegard copper, No. 45, the "Mjolnir Heatherlands/Thor's Hammer" type, was minted in AS 40 (2005).

Minting of the St. Hildegard coppers came to an end not because they'd become unpopular but because the price of copper had spiked so high that the metal content of each copper surpassed its redeemable value of $1. Cnulle and Kidman also wanted to move onto other projects, which for Cnulle included producing dies and tokens for Arkansas-based Shirepost Mint. Those dies and tokens included those produced for the HBO series "Game of Thrones," Cnulle's "The Faceless Man" token and his "Daler of New Dale."

The St. Hildegard coppers feature in multiple volumes of Krause Publications' "Unusual World Coins" as "Coinage of the Realm." The St. Hildegard coppers' collector base today is international.

Cnulle continued to redeem the St. Hildegard coppers at their $1 face value up until his final event, An Tir September Crown AS 43 (2011) in the Barony of Glymm Mere. Cnulle died unexpectedly the following November.

"St. Hildegard Coppers," the book, details even more of the coppers' history.
