The Feast of St Edrik

Barony of Citadel of the Southern Pass
(K/Q)

The Barony of the Citadel of the Southern Pass invites all to come together to share in merriment with old and new friends. A feast celebrating the Barony's birthday and the memory of Blessed St Edrik (Patron Saint of Squires and Children born with Extremely Large Noses) has been called by Their Excellencies Carlos and Joella.

Activities planned include classes, dancing, feast, a tournament or two, and more.

Feast will be collection of pastas (Blessed St Edrik was known to love pasta) with various sauces, there will be a dessert competition (rules to be announced soon).

We will have a table set up where you can give/trade old books, garb, feast gear, or any other items that clutter up your house you no longer need.

The Guild Presents: A Sworded Nocks (the Working Title)

Barony of al-Barran
(K/Q)

A Sworded Affaire and Nock on Wood.

Two legendary events.

What if - hear me out - What if they were held at the same place, at the same time?
Sorry - question? Yes, you in the back.
"What if it was a camping event?"
Friend, you have read our mind.

Enthusiastic new players have crafted a brainchild. That brainchild was slain in the name of tradition.
But here's the next best thing.

The Guild Presents: A Sworded Nocks (the Working Title)

Yes, the whole thing. Yes, every time.

Come test your mettle by steel, bowstring, or pillow!
It's gonna be a good time.

Site cap is 150 people. SPACE IS LIMITED, so your RSVP is kindly requested and greatly appreciated!

Iohann, Webminister of the Outlands, sends greetings!

We have been working to expand the kingdom technology team, so that we can better support all of the various activities and offices across the Outlands. Our team can use your help! Whether you're interested in websites, digital art, marketing, or just have ideas, we have lots of opportunities to expand the reach of the SCA. The office has ambitious projects coming up, which will include collaboration across all of our kingdom offices, from the Seneschal to the Chatelaine, and the more help we have, the more we can accomplish.

For information check out the kingdom technology roadmap or contact webminister@outlands.org.

Is it Bullying in the SCA?

Cover Art:

The Unicorn Rests in a Garden (from the Unicorn Tapestries)

French \(cartoon\)/South Netherlandish \(woven\)

1495–1505

The seven individual hangings known as "The Unicorn Tapestries," are among the most beautiful and complex works of art from the late Middle Ages that survive. Luxuriously woven in fine wool and silk with silver and gilded threads, the tapestries vividly depict scenes associated with a hunt for the elusive, magical unicorn.

"The Unicorn Rests in a Garden" may have been created as a single image rather than part of a series. In this instance, the unicorn probably represents the beloved tamed. He is tethered to a tree and constrained by a fence, but the chain is not secure and the fence is low enough to leap over: The unicorn could escape if he wished. Clearly, however, his confinement is a happy one, to which the ripe, seed-laden pomegranates in the tree—a medieval symbol of fertility and marriage—testify. The red stains on his flank do not appear to be blood, as there are no visible wounds like those in the hunting series; rather, they represent juice dripping from bursting pomegranates above. Many of the other plants represented here, such as wild orchid, bistort, and thistle, echo this theme of marriage and procreation: they were acclaimed in the Middle Ages as fertility aids for both men and women. Even the little frog, nestled among the violets at the lower right, was cited by medieval writers for its noisy mating.
