Greetings Calontir

As of this writing, coronation has happened and We should be Pennsic bound, or have just arrived, depending on when this issue comes out. Either way Our reign has just begun with lots to look forward to. I believe We have an event every weekend in August and September with many opportunities to get out and see everyone. Looking at the Calendar, We will get to visit every state in Calontir and, doing some quick math, that will be approximately 70 hours of quality time in Our car and that didn't include going to Pennsic.

Hmm, I'm pretty sure that wasn't in the brochure describing all they amazing reasons You want to be crown. lol. On that note We will need heirs soon and will be having Our crown tournament to find those heirs in November. So, you might want to start doing a little training, maybe fighting in as many tournaments as possible between now and then. It's going to be a tremendous crown, lots of fighters coming out of the woodwork. I've already had four different knights tell Me this is their crown. The tournament will be bring your best and will be fought 2 out of 3 each round. Only real difference from last crown is We will not have the normal shield restrictions. Instead, all shields will have to be approved by the Crown. Basically, as long as you're fighting with a shield you normally fight with in tourneys, and it's not a huge barn door or 52-inch round shield then I will likely approve it. Looking forward to seeing everyone at an event near you soon.

Robert and Magge
King and Queen of Calontir

Greetings,

I hope everyone had a great summer.

Congratulations to Their Royal Majesties Robert and Magge.

Congratulations on the completion of a successful reign to Their Excellencies Elias and Adalyde.

As I write this missive many of our friends are getting ready to attend Pennsic. I'm sure that it will be glorious. Those of us who must remain home will keep home and hearth together until the travelers return, bringing with them stories of great deeds and marvelous adventures. I look forward to hearing of their adventures.

There are some important changes to note.

The chatelain has become a great office. The chatelain is vital to our recruitment and retention activities. Calontir's current chatelain has been arranging and hosting some really fantastic virtual classes, full of valuable information for both new and longstanding members of the Society. I encourage everyone to check them out.

The advocates office has gone through some significant changes, due to changes in Society policy. While some of the responsibilities of the office have changed, many of them have remained the same. If you are having some issues dealing with another SCA member, a neutral third party can help clarify misunderstandings. The advocates can also help a new SCA member (or even not so new) navigate SCA policy. If you want to know if the advocates office can help you address your issues, reach out and ask. If they are not the best resource for helping to resolve the situation, they can give you information about what options are available. The advocates office consists of three individuals, each serving a three year term. One advocate steps down each year. You will find a notice of an opening in this office in this issue of The Mews. If you think you could help Calontir and its people by filling one of these positions please consider sending a letter of interest. If you have any questions, ask an advocate.

In service,

Giulia
Seneschal

Advocate Position Opening —

Please consider helping your fellow Calontiri as a member of the Advocates Office. Advocates are an important source of information and assistance with a variety of issues and situations. Advocates serve a three-year term and work with an advocate team. For information ask an advocate or the kingdom seneschal.

Letter of interest should be sent to the kingdom seneschal before September 1, 2024.

Greetings Calontir!

As the seasons begin to turn towards fall, and war season is in our rear-view mirror, we have a lot of exciting events coming up. It's a great time to also begin focusing more on recruitment!

As schools go into their fall semesters many new faces will begin appearing in many of our local areas. Families too will begin fall rituals such as football, band competitions, and the like. Remember that the best way to get our community involved with us is to be a part of our community. Look for new opportunities to assist with fundraising and supporting schools, students, and families alike. The more we do together to make our groups part of their homes, the more their homes will support our local groups.

Over the last year, many new demo ideas have been tried. While not all were able to happen, I love the thoughts that went into them. Do you have a part of your life that is not the SCA? What do you do for fun? Check and see if there are any ways we can work with people in your other hobbies and walks of life. You never know who might be interested in the thing you do.

Finally, registration for the Known World Newcomers Symposium has officially opened. All are welcome to attend; but all will need to register to get the link for the symposium. Check out <https://kwns.calontir.org/> for more information and the registration form. Class proposals are still also wanted. Forms for class proposals will be accepted through September 1, 2024.

Calontir, thank you for everything you do to make our game great and help our newcomers find their way. You are amazing.

In Service to Crown, Kingdom, and the Dream,

Ottar Surtson
Chatelaine, Kingdom of Calontir

Calontir!!

Pennsic is nigh upon us! And we have a new Crown to lead us to battle. As usual, once we roll over into July, I get excited.

However, there's work to be done. The Heralds meeting at CalonCon had a great turnout and we covered a lot of useful topics, so from my perspective, it was really productive.

I went into the meeting reiterating my two basic principles. First, heraldry is cool. Heralds do their work because they love it. In these letters, I've tried to show just how much fun I have geeking out about heraldry and where that leads me. If any of this has struck a chord with you, let me know and I'll find a way to get you opportunities to muddle around and see how cool it can be for you too.

But the truth is heraldry may seem cool from the outside, but also intimidating. Where do we start? Why so many books? Am I going to have to buy them all? There's just so much, how could I ever learn enough to contribute? These are valid questions. Fortunately, helping out with heraldry isn't as complicated or tough as it seems from the outside. First, it's the responsibility of the College of Heralds to teach you, show you where cheaper resources are available, and give you a leg up. We spent much of the meeting at CalonCon focused on how we can better help educate people new to heraldry so they have all the tools they need to contribute, if that's their desire.

We already have a position dedicated to teach heralds, the Habicht Herald. The current Habicht is Lady Shoshanah and she had some great ideas. Also, Calontir pays for Google Classroom, something Mistress Brigida, a former Gold Falcon, knows well. So, you can expect us to offer a variety of classes on heraldic topics going forward. If you prefer to learn by doing stuff instead of in the classroom, I encourage you to approach our heralds. Mistress Dorcas Whitecap routinely hosts consulting tables at events. As part of this, she encourages people interested in the process to join her, no matter their experience, and help. It's quite enjoyable, as I personally can attest.

If you like ceremonies, look for Master Ma'az (he has a longer, cooler name, but most of you know him as Ma'az). If voice heraldry is something you like, hit up Brynjolfr, our current Battleur (tournament herald) or Johan, who did the job for many years. Or if court heraldry appeals to you, reach out to the current White Hawk, which changes reign to reign, or to a previous one such as myself or Yngvarr.

Moving on, Lady Dryfinna clarified some aspects of e-pay. If you have questions on that, please ask her, because she's a wizard at that.

She also emphasized the SCA College of Heraldry will currently only accept paper submissions on Version 4 of the forms. Please don't bring earlier versions to events. There were a number of other details and it was a great meeting. Again, I thank all who joined in.

I may have glossed over tinctures here and there, so I'm going to touch base on them this month. There are two main types (colors and metals), plus a subsidiary one (furs). I'm just going to talk about the first two today. I'll get into furs as we get closer to winter. It's far too right now to even contemplate wearing something furry, even if it's just on your device.

There are five colors: Azure (Blue), Gules (Red), Purpure (Purple—Yayyy Calontir!), Sable (Black), and Vert (Green) and two metals: Argent (White), and Or (Gold).

Some of the names derived from Old French make sense in English. We still use azure as a word for blue. Purpure has to be purple right? Sable is again sometimes used for something black, though it's a bit more obscure.

Gules is a bit more tough, though fun. It derives from an Old French word meaning "a neckpiece made of red fur." Before that, it comes from a word "guele," which means throat. Compare that to English, "gullet." I find that derivation fascinating and I wonder how common such neckpieces were.

Vert you've seen before, though you may not have realized it. Verdigris is a green pigment made from copper salts. Then there's verdant. It's in a variety of other places and it is literally the French word for "green."

Argent is not just a one-hit wonder band from the 70s, it's the Latin word for silver (well, argentum, -a, -us, if you want to be pedantic, and I approve of pedantic). If you want to get scientific, this is where the Ag comes from for silver on the periodic table and it means silver or white in heraldry. Hold your head up, we're almost to the end.

Or is our last one, and it comes from Latin as well. This is one of those where the spelling might confuse you, because "Or" is different than the conjunction "or" and Gold is Au on the periodic table, referring to the Latin word "aurum." But, of course, if you pronounce "Or" and "Aur," they're almost the same, and you can see how it shifted in Old French.

So there are the seven main tinctures, and I'll leave you with one other cool thing. We talk about not putting a color on a color or a metal on a metal in heraldry. This is to say, that we put Argent and Or on the colors and vice versa, but never the same on the same. The reason for this rule is that Gules on Purpure, Or on Argent, or other similar combinations don't show up well in across the battlefield.

However, there are periodic examples where they ignored this rule, and chances are you've seen one instance in action. The Kingdom of Jerusalem had Or crosses on an Argent background, and they display this really well in the movie Kingdom of Heaven.

And with that, it's time to go. I have to prep for Pennsic while popping in a certain DVD. Director's Cut, duh! In any case, have a great month and see some of you at Cooper's Lake!

Rhodri

Hello Calontir!

Lately there's been some confusion about how to properly submit an event to ensure it gets put on the kingdom calendar, and your group can host. There are processes in place for ALL kingdom level events. A kingdom level event can be a Royal Event, as defined by kingdom law, which has one process. Or just an event that you want to hold for the Kingdom of Calontir, which has a second process. The first thing that any seneschal or autocrat should do is read the Event Submission Guide found here: <https://docs.google.com/document/d/1Q3dQ7dZ7Xy4mFfFhs0D5LLUF5NmCxqi5jx63bAVemQI/edit?usp=sharing>

Arguably the most important section in that document is the Adding to the Official Kingdom Calendar on page 2 and 3. There are 4 steps that are absolutely necessary, in order to have your event be an official event. If these steps are not completed before the required deadline, you run the risk of not being able to have an official kingdom event.

Royal event process is as follows.

Read the Event Submission Guide and follow the instructions. Go to the Reeve's page on the kingdom website: <https://www.calontir.org/seneschal/reeve/>. Read through the documentation for the type of royal event you're holding if Crown, Coronation, Kingdom A&S, Kings' Companie of Archers, Masters of the Duel, CalonCon, Queen's Prize or wish to autocrat Lilies War.

All Royal Events MUST fill out the Kingdom Level Event Bid Form, currently in PDF form found here: https://drive.google.com/file/d/1PrgQot2u3P1mDswH_VvOxlq8DV5LoBNc/view

Submit the completed form to the required officers as per the requirements in the instructions. If there are no written instructions (Masters of the Duel, Kings Companie of Archers) Please send the completed form to the Reeve and they will ensure that your bid gets to the correct individuals for the required approval process.

Normal Event Process —

Read the Event Submission Guide and follow the instructions Go to the Reeve's page on the kingdom website: <https://www.calontir.org/seneschal/reeve/>

Check the Traditional/Reserved Events to ensure you're not conflicting with something: <https://docs.google.com/document/d/1kkk2xg8igKkjR3e4IRp5vBVbnv-PW2lvysiKIASEvf8/edit>

Fill out and submit your event via Calontir Event Submission Form: https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSc9M5N6_aIMMyqeR-Sw8DijZyal44uTXKogHcllvd5ezoUjGA/viewform

Once these steps are completed, you must submit your flyer to the MEWS by the 1st of the Month, 2 months prior to the event. For example, if the event is in November, the flyer would be due by September 1st to the Kingdom Chronicler and Kingdom Deputy Chronicler. If you're unsure, please refer to the Chronicler's kingdom webpage: <https://www.calontir.org/chronicler/> There are explicit instructions of how to submit a flyer, and those rules must also be followed.

Thank you for your cooperation,
Jorunna Refsdottir
Reeve

Greetings to the Populace of Calontir!

RUSH is the Royal University of Scir Hafoc, Welsh for Bright Falcon. The University is dedicated to promoting education in Calontir and the SCA.

I want to thank all of you in the populace who have reached out to let me know you're excited about the RUSH program. While I'm the most public face of the program, I've put together a staff of 10 people to help me. And it's about time I introduced you to a few of them.

The provost acts as the assistant to the Chancellor. Officer's terms are typically 2 years. And the time has come for Mistress Giraude Benet to step down as Provost. She has been a wonderful resource, guide, and support. We appreciate her time and efforts with the RUSH staff.

Lady Alessandra de Corsino will be stepping into the provost role. She'll be helping me with the many regular communications I've taken on as transparency is a priority. We have a lot of projects and changes, and we want everyone who's interested to easily stay informed.

The Registrar maintains the database, tracks class credits, and handles initial communication with those who have earned recognition. Mistress Esther bat Moshe is our Registrar and has kept the backlog of paper files safe while patiently waiting for a functional database. Our next step is training Esther on the new database. I know she is as excited as the rest of us to finally have a functional database. Please hold off on emailing the Registrar to ask about your credits while we focus on processing the backlog. On a quarterly basis we will provide the populace with a read-only spreadsheet so that you can see what we have in the database. The first report will be made available in September.

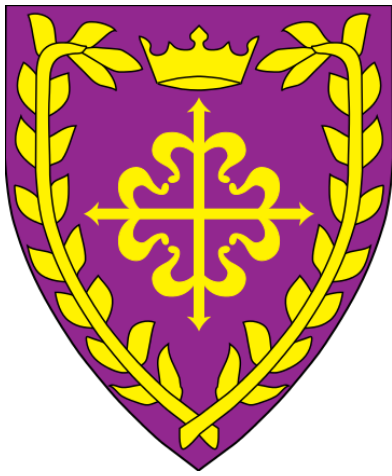

The Online Class Deputy handles our Thursday Night RUSH program of online classes. This project was an idea on my list, but The Honorable Lady Berakha bat Mira v'Shlomo brought it to life for all of us. You can find the schedule of classes at <https://www.calontir.org/rush/> And if you're interested in teaching please reach out to THL Berakha as rush-onlineclass@calontir.org

I'll introduce you to the regents next time. RUSH is for everyone, and we want to hear your ideas, questions, and concerns. Look for RUSH Discussions at events and online. At these meetings I will present updates on projects and ask for feedback. You can also reach any of the officers or me at RUSH-Chancellor@calontir.org

Yours in Service,

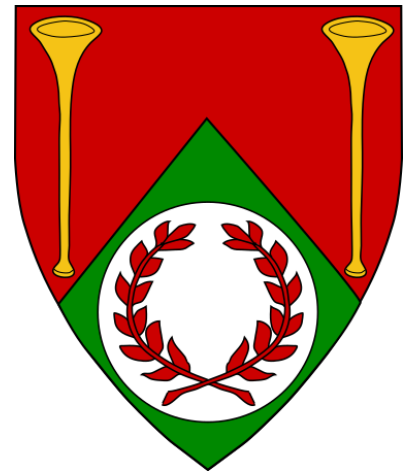

Mu'allimah Vashti al-A'shariyah
