Summer has been a blast because of all Our Northshields. Thank you to all who helped make it a wonderful experience. We are looking forward to a great winter reign, so we'll put in a plug for award recommendations. We can't see everything, so let us know how awesome Northshields are and we'll proclaim it to all. Here's to a great winter and new memories!

Chancellor of the Exchequer

Greetings, Exchequers!

Just a couple of items:

I will soon be seeking an NMR Deputy. The current deputy, THL Gwenllian verch Rhys de Goer, has served for three years and wishes to step down. The position is straightforward and requires about an hour a week at the most. This deputy is responsible for collecting and depositing NMR checks from events. This position also prepares and submits to the Kingdom Exchequer a brief monthly report that is sent to Society. An official posting will go out next month; however if you are interested, or know of anyone who might be interested in an "exchequer-lite" sort of position, please contact me.

The new event registration system, SCORES, will likely go public sometime in September. This system will allow registrants to pay via credit card, and will simplify the Gate process for any events that use it. More to come on SCORES – based on the intro sessions Kingdom Exchequers have had so far, it looks like it will be helpful, especially for larger events like Boar's Head, 12th Night and WW.

One of my favorite duties as Kingdom Chronicler is submitting nominations for the William Blackfox Awards, the Society's publications awards. The chroniclers of Northshield did not fail to impress in AS LVII. I submitted eight nominations for four local newsletters and the Northwatch. The winners should be announced this winter.

Kingdom Chronicler

Greetings unto the populace of Northshield,

Welcome to September, the end of Summer and the start of Autumn. Now is a time of transition. First of all, thank you for the inspiring reign and leadership from Their Majesties, Lars III and Mary III, and vivante to Their incoming Majesties, Yngvar III and Isabella. Long may They reign.

Speaking of transitions, I am looking forward to transitioning to the new and improved kingdom website. But before we can do that, the website needs the following positions filled to help finish this project.

Kingdom Webminister

Currently, only the five baronies are producing local newsletters. If your local group is interested in starting, or re-starting, a newsletter, I am more than happy to answer any questions.

Ever in service to Crown, Kingdom, and you,

Arnbjørn

Cén scéal? What's the news?

Kingdom Earl Marshal

A missive from the Kingdom Youth Armored Combat Marshal:

Greetings!

For those of you who don't know me, I'm the Kingdom Youth Armored Combat Marshal. It's my job to oversee, support, and promote armored youth combat in Northshield.

Yes, we do have a youth combat program in Northshield. We have nine full marshals, nine marshals-in-training, and a few folks who are waiting for their background checks to clear before starting the process. Most of the youth combat programs are in the baronies, but some of the non-barony groups also have regular practices. The numbers are constantly changing, but we typically have between thirty and fifty authorized and un-authorized youth fighters in the Kingdom at the moment. (Since the fighters are separated by age groups, and since kids keep getting older, each one needs to reauthorize every few years to stay active.) It's worth noting that, as many kids we have fighting, we have as many adults who are authorized to spar with them at practices. (Commercial: If adults want to participate in the youth combat program, as either marshals or fighters, please contact me. I can put you in touch with local resources, or help you out myself. Heavy fighters, there's an authorization specifically so that you can spar against youth fighters under certain conditions. I can get you set up there, as well.)

We try to make participation as simple and welcoming as possible. Youth Armored Combat is open to any youths 6-17 years old who have a parent present and have the necessary gear. Participants do not have to have prior experience. As with any SCA martial activity, combatants will have to complete an authorization to compete in any tournaments. However, unlike their adult counterparts, many events with youth combat activities include some time for training and practice so that the kids can get authorized before the tournament begins. Also, many events list their youth combat opportunities as practices so unauthorized fighters can take part. At any event or practice, we will have some limited loaner gear and weapons to try out, though it's helpful for children to have their own head protection (a hockey helmet or equivalent) and their own groin protection as appropriate for their age group. Depending on numbers and availability, some fighters may need to share loaner gear.

All fighters are required to have a waiver signed by a parent or legal guardian that day. If the fighter is not authorized or has never done this before, they and their parents must receive a brief (5-10 minute) orientation before the youth can take part. Any event which includes youth combat has time for orientation built in, usually during inspections and authorizations, but a marshal will be happy to run through it at any time. The full set of rules for YAC can be found in the Kingdom of Northshield Youth Combat Handbook (<http://northshield.org/Resources/PDF/Martial/handbooks/NorthshieldYouthCombatHandbook2018.pdf>). All Division 1 Youth Armored combatants MUST have a parent or legal guardian present at the list field when fighting. Parents of Division 2 and 3 fighters need to be on site or have the appropriate paperwork to designate another guardian during that activity.

Some of the tournaments the kids can participate in are straightforward, such as the Standard Tournament they did at the most recent Warriors and Warlords – a plain double-elimination tournament with no special victory conditions. Others are more complicated, such as the Crestfallen Tournament in which a combatant can only be killed if their opponent knocks the stuffed animal off of their helmet. (And you thought duct tape was just for repairs!) There are sometimes fancy prizes, such as the reward of pie (from the Four-And-Twenty-Blackbird Bearpit), stuffed animals (the usual prize from the Crestfallen Tournament or Teddy Bear Bearpit), or pieces of armor (lately, the grand prize from Kittens and Lava). Kittens and Lava deserves its own special mention – youth fighters participate in a real-life video game, jumping from rock to rock in a field of lava, rescuing kittens and other small animals from a fiery fate. The lava path is guarded by a fierce creature, often a dragon, who tries to defeat the fighters. The marshals sometimes change the rules to force the kids to think strategically, to work as part of a team, or to triumph over personal adversity, and the part of the dragon is played by an adult or an older youth fighter. Recently we have also used this game as a fundraiser, and donated the proceeds to the Background Check fund and to the animal rescue program Wisconsin Wildlife.

Every once in a while someone will ask why I spend so much time on the youth field when those energies could be spent furthering my advancement (or at least trying to) on the heavy field. As with so many areas of the SCA, I respond with stories. I tell them about the kids who start the day hiding behind their parents' legs, eventually emerging to win the day and get carried back to camp because they were too tired to walk back. I talk about the children of knights, who share tactics that come from watching their parents on the field. I talk about teenagers who take time from their chores to bring their younger siblings or campmates, who split their time between learning and teaching, eventually graduating to the adult heavy and rapier fields. All of us who are marshals for this program have these stories and are happy to tell them.

The children are our future. I think we have a lot to look forward to.

In service,

Abelard

2023 Q2 BOARD MEETING DEIB IMPACTING DECISIONS

An update from the Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Belonging (DEIB) Officer, Charles Burk:

This is long, but it’s very important!

The Board of Directors directed the Corporate DEIB Officer to begin drafting the corpora language and implementation strategy for the following DEIB/Retention & Recruiting initiatives for review and public commentary.

In late 2022 the Board of Directors published a DEI strategy outlining multiple goals for DEIB in the SCA and approved six initiatives at the April, 2023 Board meeting that move forward on that strategy.

One of those items was to partner with the Society Chatelaine to build training for new members. The following proposal for consideration is intended as a broad Recruiting and Retention package for public commentary that expands upon that directive and addresses this strategic item.

Recruiting and Retention are key areas of focus for the SCA. Coming out of COVID, membership and engagement have not returned to pre-COVID levels. Prior to COVID we were already seeing a decline in paid membership, and COVID exacerbated the problem. The SCA must focus on recruiting and retention, differently than it has, in order to stay viable for another half-century. To this end, I have several requests, all of which will need to go for public commentary, and as such they are packaged for the populace as a single, large DEIB Recruiting and Retention Proposal

- Create a Society Greater Office of Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging. This role will function like other greater officer roles with the Kingdom officers reporting up to the Society DEIB officer. This will require all kingdoms to have a DEIB officer in place and will be a kingdom greater officer reporting to the Society Greater Officer. If we cannot get to Inclusion and Belonging, game-facing, in the SCA, then we have little hope of successfully recruiting new members to the SCA from marginalized communities. After being in this office for five months, I am raising this concern now – all kingdom and local DEI(B) officers are not on the same page, and some are actually doing it wrong. They are putting us at some level of liability, ranging from brand damaging – to legal. This is not due to animus but rather a lack of top-down DEIB strategy. Our Kingdom and local DEI(B) officers must be on the same page and saying the same things. Secondly, we should train our Chatelaines to incorporate DEIB in to their work, as they are the most impactful from a recruiting perspective. They are our front line.

In the April Board meeting I was tasked to start writing the handbook for a Society DEIB office and build a work group to begin defining what this would look like to standardize across kingdoms. This authoring work is underway, and the workgroup is forming. For the Society DEIB Office Handbook, the author has been identified (because I am NOT a technical writer), and the content is under development. We expect to deliver the first draft for review in the next two weeks. The Handbook developed by the prior DEI officer is an amazing place to build from, and I am expanding upon the scope and responsibility required for this office. We are crafting a new handbook using many pieces of the old handbook as applicable.

- In order to work in this direction, it is my fervent recommendation to see the Board elevate the Office of Society Chatelaine to a Society Greater Office instead of a deputy of the Society Seneschal. The kingdom Chatelaines would report up through the Society Chatelaine and local Chatelaines reporting to the Kingdom Chatelaines with all of them taking their strategic direction from the Society Chatelaine rather than serving as deputies to other offices.

One of the biggest problems we have with recruiting is that we are not nearly as effective as we could be. At all. Recruiting happens at all levels in the SCA, and we need education and guidance on how we effectively recruit members. The lack of a standardized vision for recruiting is harming the SCA, as each chatelaine, to their own abilities, does whatever they think is best. We have to train those willing bodies on how to do this right in a concerted and consistent way.

There are actual organizational strategies for recruiting, that if we aligned the chatelaine offices under a society greater office, and empowered that office to implement society wide recruiting strategies, we could then employ those strategically and consistently top down and bottom up to deliver a steady increase year over year in members that are retained. By making this change in organization to the chatelaines office, this furthers the boards DEIB strategy for a new member DEIB approach as it empowers the correct people to do this work.

- Change the scope (and possibly the name) of the Corporate DEIB Office to owning strategy consulting and the programmatic support for DEIB recruiting and retention efforts supporting both the Society DEIB officer and the Society Chatelaine with broad-scale implementations as well as serving as principle advisor to the Board of Directors and other corporate bodies.

This office would own things like administration and compliance of required training for Society, Corporate, and Kingdom officers by maintaining a corporate Learning Management System (see next bullet point on Learning Management System approval). This office would own the implementation of programmatic, society wide DEIB initiatives that impact recruiting and retention. As an example, Newcomer and Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion initiatives that are infrastructure based like implementing a society-wide way to track and publish site accessibility features, or create and implement mandatory society-wide management training.

This allows the Society DEIB Officer and the Society Chatelaine to focus on all the game-facing initiatives and not also have to focus on the infrastructural ones as well.

- Approve acquiring a Learning Management System to house, track, and report out on all corporate training. In the April, 2023 Board meeting, the Board of Directors approved mandatory DEIB training for Corporate, Society, and Kingdom officers including Crowns and territorial Prince/Princesses. The best mechanism to do this at scale is to invest in an LMS that houses all the training, provides the platform to develop the training in, the tracking to see who has completed it, and the reporting to identify performance, trends and opportunities in the learning process. Employing an LMS will allow Officers to build onboarding for new deputies and down-line reporting officers. Another win this provides is it allows the DEIB office and the Chatelaine's office to house all their front-line Chatelaine training in one place and ensure everyone has learned from the same content. It will enable us, as a corporation, to learn and standardize that learning at scale. With further investment it would house all corporate training in one location, which would provide valuable data insights.

Separately from the above, the Board also did the following which also impacts Equity, Inclusion and Belonging:

The Board of Directors approved sending for public commentary a change in how members of the BoD are selected. Instead of requiring a unanimous vote, it requires a unanimous vote minus one. This prevents one Director from holding the rest of the directors hostage during the selection process, which has impacted significantly the selection process in the past, including yours truly when I was interviewed for the Board. This is an amazing move on the part of the Directors to start START building equity in to the governing of our organization. I am looking forward to seeing what additional items they bring forward in the future to continue to move in this direction.

Our new Society Earl Marshal was announced. In a significant departure from historical precedent the new SEM is not a Knight, is an equestrian, and identifies as female. She is a Pelican and holds numerous grant-level fighting awards including a White Scarf as well as serving as Caid's Kingdom Earl Marshall and a deputy SEM for equestrian. Congratulations to Mistress Arabella da Siena, OP!

In a move to limit bullying through power harassment, the Society Seneschal proposed to amend Corpora to restrict the Crown's ability to misuse consent to enter crown list as a mechanism for targeting members of the populace. The Board of Directors approved this for public commentary.

(This post was originally shared by the SCA Inc Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Belonging Officer on the official DEIB Facebook page.)

PEOPLE ON THE MOVE – MARSHAL OF THE SOCIETY (SOCIETY MARSHAL)

The Board of Directors is pleased to appoint Dr. Melissa Midzor (Maestra Arabella da Siena, OP) as the incoming Marshal of the Society.

Maestra Arabella da Siena has been an active member of the SCA marshallate for over 34 years, leading and coordinating martial activities at Society, Kingdom, and local levels and multiple interkingdom events. Since joining the SCA in 1987, she has authorized and fought in Armored Combat, Rapier, Equestrian, Combat and Target Archery, Thrown Weapons, and recently acquired two siege engines. She is the former Society Equestrian Officer and Kingdom

Earl Marshal of Caid, and has also served as seneschal, exchequer, and herald, enjoying all aspects of the SCA. Arabella currently resides in the Outlands, has lived in Caid, Atlantia, and the Midrealm, and traveled extensively over the years to participate in 14 kingdoms and every Interkingdom war. She is a member of the Order of the Pelican (OP), Order of the Golden Lance (OGL), and Defender of the White Scarf (DWS).

Dr. Melissa Midzor is the Program Manager for the National Advanced Spectrum and Communications Test Network (NASCTN), an organization of 6 Federal agencies that improves wireless communication and spectrum sharing between Government and Commercial systems. She is also the Division Chief of Spectrum Technology and Research at NIST, developing innovative measurement methods and tools for wireless communications, greenhouse gas monitoring, and quantum networks. Dr. Midzor is the former Director of the EW Integrated Laboratories for the DoD, supporting Electronic Warfare across the joint services and the Pentagon. She earned her PhD at Caltech in Physics (nanotechnology), and also a BA in Sociology. She lives in Colorado with her partner Steve, 2 kids, 3 horses, dog, cat, fish, and a (recently added) bearded dragon.

The Marshal of the Society's area of authority is all martial and related activities practiced in the Society, both those described by the handbooks approved for the office and proposed as additions to those handbooks (experimental activities). The Marshal will work to encourage the participation of all in the Society's martial activities, and strive to expand and improve those activities for the benefit of the Society and its members. Dr. Midzor commences in the role on 1 September 2023 and the appointment term is for 3 years.

NOMINATE NOW FOR THE SCA INC. BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Want to play a pivotal role in sustaining, supporting and shaping the Society for the future? The SCA Inc. Board of Directors is always seeking to add to the Nominee List for future Directors. We currently have 44 nominees from 13 of 20 Kingdoms and would love to see this list grow in representation from across the Known World.

All nominations are actively welcomed. This includes members from Kingdoms with affiliate relationships.

The Board is continually seeking a variety of skill sets to meet current and emerging opportunities and challenges. For example, at present, nominations for individuals would be welcomed whose skillsets include:

- Strategic planning
- Experience with digital media
- Mediation training
- An aptitude for consensus building

This list is merely a suggestion for some of the skills that would be beneficial to SCA Inc. and is by no means exclusive.

The Board would love to see all demographics of our membership represented in the Nominee List and peerage is not a requirement.

If you have questions, we are happy to schedule a telephone call or zoom meeting with a current director to discuss any questions. Have conversations with those around you that you feel would enhance the Society through this work and reach out if you would like to know more!

Not in the right place in your life at this time? You may nominate yourself or another person who you feel would be an asset to SCA Inc. All nominations are anonymous, appreciated, and should be sent to recruiting@sca.org

DEAR ABBESS:

My younger brother has entered a monastery at Malmesbury, and while he is still in the probationary period, he has already become frustratingly condescending and will speak only in Latin. I am at a loss as to what it is he wishes to communicate with me. When we last spoke, I became most alarmed – I am an educated man, and I can understand the Latin, though I cannot guess at its true meaning. I fear some illness or madness has befallen him, as he says “Now my entrails are filled with divine words/ And all my organs carry sacred books/ And yet from them I cannot learn anything.” What does it mean, and what sort of cure should I seek for him?

Yours,

—MEANINGLESS IN MALMESBURY

DEAR MEANINGLESS,

Your brother is likely describing a library chest. Do not worry. His abbot Aldhelm has in fact written a whole book of riddles, and this is one of them. Sharpen your wits and you may be able to keep up with your brother, but it sounds as though the right member of your family took the tonsure.

DO YOU HAVE MEDIEVAL PROBLEMS? ASK DEAR ABBESS BY WRITING TO NORTHWATCH@NORTHSHIELD.ORG, PUTTING “DEAR ABBESS” IN THE SUBJECT.
