Warmest greetings to the populace of The Outlands and all others who come by these letters, from Mordygan and Ymanie, Cyning and Cwyne Utenweard.

Battlemoor was most amazing and We hope that you had much or more fun than We had Ourselves! The tournaments were such a joy to watch. The classes were fun, interesting, and very informative. The pageantry and skill displayed by horse and rider was amazing. We look forward to watching and experiencing the skills of The Outlands throughout Our reign.

By the time these letters are published We will be in the far eastern lands of Æthelmearc at Pennsic War 50! We know many of Our kinsman will be there and We hope that it was you with whom We shared in the merriment of this grand event. We also look forward to proving Our innocence in the charges laid to Us at Battlemoor of the removal of fun from the SCA at The Pleasure Pavilion's Court of Fools. No doubt Our crack viking legal team, lead by The Honorable Lord Fjolverkr, will have represented Us well.

As we begin Our reign, We wish to continue moving forward with grace and civility. We are all still learning how to be social again and We ask that all of us give a moment's breath and consider our responses. In the words of Our great-grandparents, "Be kind!"

Mordygan Ymanie
 Cyning Cwyne

Beloved Outlands,

As we look out at the endless dream before us, We think back over the course of Our reign. We are reminded of all that We found and all that We leave behind; friends, memories, victories, losses, joy and sorrow.

We take solace in the dutiful fulfillment of Our oaths as Crown of the Outlands, knowing We did not act in the interest of public perception, but rather worked consistently to apply ethics and morality; giving equal weight to each virtue while being mindful of the knowledge available to Us and wary of that which was not.

As We walk now into the annals of history, We continue to take pride in this Kingdom and know that its future is secure with Our heirs. We are grateful for all who gave counsel and aid, and those who shared food, drink, song and mirth. Long live the Outlands.

From the Arts and Sciences Ministry:

Greetings Outlands!

I am so pleased with the incredible display of artistry and science that we experienced at Battlemoor. A huge thank you to everyone who volunteered their time to teach and to those who took classes. It warmed my heart to see so many people learning. I loved seeing all the projects at the Artisan's Green, especially the class that moved under that tent to work more magic. And who can forget the goats on Artisan's Row! Thank you to Her Excellency Angel d' Auvergne for helping me schedule all the classes and to Her Excellency Hannah de Avila for organizing and running the glass tent. You guys are amazing and helped create magic.

November will bring Kingdom Arts and Sciences Collegium. While we have a bid, the kingdom is making sure that any interested group can submit a bid by July 31. If interested, submit a bid. If not, plan out a class to teach or start thinking about classes you would like to take so that we can search for teachers. Also, make sure you sign up for the Royal Outlands Interkingdom University before November so that you can get credit for the classes you teach and take. You can learn more and sign up at <https://www.roiu.outlands.org/>.

Thank you all and I look forward to more arts and sciences!

Marion Forester

From the Webminister:

Greetings and good tidings!

We want to see your pictures from Battlemoor! The Web Ministry is looking for images that we can use in both next year's Battlemoor marketing and general kingdom sites. We're especially interested in images that show off groups of people doing an activity, without modern objects in the frame. Please submit images to webminister@outlands.org and include the photographer's contact information, so that we give appropriate credit and can complete necessary release forms.

With Battlemoor complete, the Web Ministry shifts focus this month and returns to some on-going projects around the kingdom. We have been working to get warrants up to date for not just this office, but as many offices as possible, including creating a new warranting tool to simplify the process and record-keeping. Several groups will be moving to kingdom website hosting over the next month, reducing the technology management burden on those groups. Lastly, work continues apace on some replacement services that will improve user experience across several of the technical services that the kingdom provides.

As ever, if you are interested in helping with, or have an idea for a technology project, please reach out!

Yours in Service to the Outlands,

The Web Ministry--

Iohann der Vuhs

webminister@outlands.org

From the White Stag Principal Herald:

Greetings Outlanders!

I hope everyone has had an enjoyable summer season and a relatively dry Battlemoor; I look forward to seeing all of you at Coronation in Caer Galen at the end of the month. Now that the bids for Crown Tournament are open, and fighters and consorts are in the mood to consider bidding for the right to become the next Dread Lord and Lady of all Argonia, I bid you consider your heraldic submissions!

While kingdom law no longer requires that entrants have registered arms and/or items in submission, consider the pageantry and joie de vivre which having banners and pennants and all manner of heraldic display brings to this game we play. And to all those who have recently been bestowed Awards or Grants of Arms, please reach out to your local herald to start the process of creating unique arms to mark your presence at events, whether in camp, on the field, or at the feast-hall. And registration is open to all members, not just those with awards: as long as you are a paid member of the Society, you all may register a name and device (and badge too).

Please check the roster of local heralds and at-large heralds on display at our website: <http://www.outlandsheralds.org>

Additionally, if you are interested in becoming a herald or learning more about heraldry, do not hesitate to reach out: herald@outlands.org

Finally, we do have a number of open kingdom deputy positions. If you are interested in stepping up within the College of Heraldry and taking on some responsibilities, please check out our Help Wanted page: http://whitestag.outlandsheralds.org/help_wanted.php

I remain, in service to the Crown and to the Populace of the Outlands,

The Combat of the Thirty (1351)

Outlanders one and all, lend me your ears!

This year at Sworded Affaire, we will be exploring the 1351 "Battle of the thirty"

During the Hundred years war, a smaller exchange occurred between two families, each controlling a stronghold near to each other's position, and ultimately resulted in a stalemate.

Each household was backed by separate Nations (England and France) and ultimately decided amongst themselves, to hold a tournament for the honor of the ladies of the house, and to settle the matter at hand. Each house was afforded 30 Combatants per side, to meet on a tournament field, armed with sword, dagger and spear, while refreshments and revelry were held by all spectating the exchange.

Ultimately, this singular event had no bearing on the hundred years war in and of itself, however, was lauded by many as being a noble act of chivalry, as spoken by Jean Froissart, saying "And let us right there try ourselves and do so much that people will speak of it in future times in halls, in palaces, in public places and elsewhere throughout the world"

Please, Join us for a day of Chivalry, combat, and revelry as we explore this small, but Chivalric display of honor in combat.

Directions:

From Albuquerque: drive east on I-40 to Exit 175 toward Tijeras, NM. Drive south for 9 miles on NM 337 (aka James McGrane Memorial Highway). Look for the brown "Oak Flat - Cibola National Forest" sign, on the east side of the road. Turn left (east) onto Oak Flat Road and follow it for .39 miles until you reach the entrance on the left side of the road. Follow the directional signs at the entranceto your site.
