Royal Missive

Their Majesties

UNTO ALL GOOD GENTLES OF THE KINGDOM, DO AONGHUS AND GINEVRA, KING AND QUEEN OF LOCHAC, SEND GREETINGS.

Since Our last missive We have travelled far across Lochac to fair Mordenvale to raise a new Knight into the Chivalry of Lochac and enjoy some wonderful performances, to the great Barony of Rowany to enjoy their hospitality, their knowledge and meet their Newcomers, and to the glorious Crescent Isles and the Barony of Ildhafn, to witness the Crown Tournament to choose Our Heirs.

In Mordenvale we were treated to a great feast and welcomed Sir Griffin Westcastle to the Order of the Chivalry. Mordenvale greeted us with its finest weather, and We watched and participated in a wonderful Rose tourney. We recognised many of the populace of Mordenvale for the many things they do in support of the Kingdom.

In Lochac we have witnessed many gentles who have recorded the happenings of the Kingdom for history and for those who could not attend events. We felt that they should be recognised for their work. For this reason, we created the Order of the Camera Obscura and asked Duchess Constanzia Moralez de Zamora to be the first recipient for her work recording the history of Lochac.

At Rowany Newcomers We met many new gentles who have joined our great society and enjoyed the many classes on offer. The feast was delicious, and the team effort in the kitchen and packing up was a fantastic thing to witness.

It was His Majesties first trip to the Crescent Isles and He was greatly impressed with both the beauty of the Crescent Isles and the welcoming and friendly populace. The Tournament to decide Our Heirs had a large list of worthy gentles from across Lochac with the majority from the Crescent Isles.

The tournament was well fought and came down to the last two combatants. The final was fought between Sir Bain and Orlok Hanbal as a best of 5 with matched weapons and the last round fought with weapons of the combatant's choice. The final bout of the Crown Tournament was refought 3 times due to double kills, before it was decided.

Reign of Aonghus I and Ginevra I

TRM and TRH with the Barons & Baronesses of Ildhafn and Southron Gaard

Their Royal Highness

TRM and TRH

We now have Heirs, His Royal Highness Bain and Her Royal Highness Iglesia.

After the Tournament we enjoyed a wonderful feast followed by games, songs and merriment.

The following day a Rose Tourney was held, with many acts of chivalry, mighty bouts and magnificent defeats. A great many Roses were handed out to the populace by Her Majesty, Her Highness and the Baronesses' of Ildhafn and Southron Gaard.

We attended The Royal Archery Tournament in Okewaite, and enjoyed participating in the shoots, spending time with the populace. We saw many deeds in support of the Kingdom and recognised those who had made efforts in the Scribal arts, service and combat.

In the coming weeks we will be preparing for Festival, which promises to be fantastic as always, though impressively busy and for our final trip of Our Reign to the Crescent Isles and Southron Gaard to Crown our Heirs and hand them the reigns of the Kingdom.

Again, We thank you all for the recommendations being sent in; together, we can recognise well-deserving individuals.

In Service to Lochac,

King Aonghus and Queen Ginevra

Crown of Lochac

Royal Heirs Missive

To the Beloved Populace of Lochac,

With great honour, we accept the roles of Crown Prince and Princess, deeply grateful for your trust. Lochac's rich heritage and vibrant community inspire us as we embark on this journey together. Our commitment is to foster inclusivity, celebrate diversity, and honour the legacy of those who came before us.

We fondly recall the crown tournament in Ildafn, where the day was as beautiful as the fighting was intense. The spirit of chivalry permeated every encounter, reminding us of the noble ideals we hold dear. It is moments like these that strengthen our resolve to uphold the values of our kingdom.

We extend our gratitude to the past royals of our realm and pledge to continue to reach for greatness. Together, let us create a kingdom where every voice is heard, and every member valued. With your support, guidance, and encouragement, we are ready to embrace the challenges and dreams that lie ahead, united in our dedication to the spirit of chivalry and camaraderie.

With unwavering dedication,

Bain & Iglesia
Crown Prince & Princess of Lochac

There are those who through their art and science reveal the wonders of our Kingdom to those who are not there to see it with their own eyes, and The Crown honour the skill and service of these gentles with the Order of the Camera Obscura. To honour that service, in the 58th year of the Society, Aonghus and Ginevra created the Order of the Camera Obscura. It is awarded for excellence in cinematography. Abbreviation: CO

From the Kingdom Seneschal

Greetings Lochac,

The form for discussing alternative approaches to selecting the Crown at <https://altcrown.lochac.sca.org> has been open for more than a week. A very big thank you to all the people who have contributed to the conversation already! It has been great to see the ideas coming out, and heartening to watch the respect that everyone is showing for each other's opinions – but we really haven't heard from that many people yet. More than 900 members told us they wanted to discuss options – were you one of them? If you were, have you visited the forum yet?

If you are someone who wants to see change, it is up to you to describe that change to your fellow citizens, and persuade them of its merits.

If you have any ideas about where we could be going, or why we should not be changing, PLEASE come to the forum and share them. And whether you have anything you want to say or not, please come to the forum and read what others have said. We'll be polling you again after Rowany festival to find out which ideas you think should be fleshed out, and which dropped – be sure that when you respond, you're up to speed with the conversation.

Yours in service,

Gomez

From the Kingdom Chronicler

Greeting Lochac!

Welcome to another edition of Pegasus.

This month I would like to give you some insight into the setting out of the Events section for Pegasus.

Firstly, when an event is approved through the Seneschals Event Form Submission, a copy of this is forwarded to me for inclusion in Pegasus. The information in that submission is what is used to populate this section. To simplify matters the style, the font and the font size are reformatted to ensure all the entire are identical, with the addition of the groups' device.

If you wish to include additional information or any artwork/photos, please forward this to pegasus@lochac.sca.org and I will update the entry, providing there is space to do so. As with all other entries this needs to be sent by the 25th of the month, so to be included in the next edition. NB: please include details about the artwork & its origins or permissions for any photos.

At the moment we have a large number of events, therefore the events section only includes events for the next three to four months. The calendar, however may include later months, as space allows.

If you are the Steward for a Crown Event, please consider sending a full page event description that I can included in the editions leading up to the Event.

Yours In Service,

Magdalena af Husum

From the Kingdom A&S

Greetings, Lochac!

The final competitions for A.S.58 have just been held in Ildhafn, and soon the results will be formally published. I am grateful to the steward, the Seneschal and to the local Arts and Sciences Minister, Isabell Winter, for their efforts in managing these competitions. We even had two remotely-judged entries this time, which is a rare event.

I do have some exciting news to share. We have new competition forms!

The originals have served Lochac well for many years, but they had grown long in the tooth, and needed updating.

The intention is to make the competition experience easier and more enjoyable. The forms are still recognizably based on the original style, but have been substantially re-written and re-arranged to make them a little more compact, and hopefully, more user-friendly for all involved. The new forms will come into use for the start of the new competition year, with the first round in May AS LVIX (May 2024).

The revised paperwork can be inspected on the A&S website, <https://artsandsciences.lochac.sca.org/lochacs-as-competitions/competition-forms/>

Many thanks to Her Majesty Ginevra, Master Crispin Sexi, Mistress Mathilde Adycote, and Mistress Rowan Perigrynne, who have all offered invaluable help with editing and ideas.

In service,

Dame Joan Sutton,
Acting KMoAS.

From the Kingdom Youth Officer

Greetings from the Kingdom Youth Officer!

The kingdom is growing, and the number of children that are a part of Lochac is also growing!

This is leading to an increasing number of people running events for Children and Young people. If you want to run an activity for those under the age of 18 at an event, you need to have a SCA Youth Activity Card.

If you need one issued, please contact children@lochac.sca.org with your details and I can then issue you a card.

In Service,

Huzzah to our new Heirs Sir Bain of Stornoway and Baroness Iglesia Delamere

The registrations for the January letter of Acceptances and returns are:

Aífe ingen Cathail. Badge. (Fieldless) A dove striking affronty azure.

This badge does not conflict with the badge of Alexi Gensel, (Fieldless) A goose displayed head to sinister azure. There is a DC for fieldlessness, but none for striking affronty versus displayed.

Per SENA Appendix M1d, as we have no period evidence for a goose in the displayed posture we do not get an SC for change in type of bird, but there is enough difference between types for the required second DC, making these clear of conflict.

* Bjorn Sæmundarson. Badge for Eldsstaðir.
Azure, on a sun Or an oak tree gules, a bordure Or.

* Cheng Weiming. Badge. (Fieldless) A rod of Aesculapius argent within and conjoined to a serpent in annulo vorant of its tail sable.

This badge was pended on the September 2023 LoAR to redraw the charges so they did not partially overlap.

As noted when this was pended, this badge does not violate SENA A3D1a: "Having identical types of charges in multiple charge groups on the field blurs the distinction between charge groups.
Thus, it is not allowed, except for cotises and endorses around an ordinary." A rod of Aesculapius is considered a single charge, which is clearly not identical in type to a serpent.

* Cristin verch Reys. Device. Per chevron vert and gules, a triquetra and in chief five jasmine flowers argent, in base a ladybug Or marked sable.

This device was pended on the September 2023
LoAR to redraw the per chevron line of division higher on the field and to enlarge the secondary flowers.

* Gaspar Falch de Cantoria. Device. Argent, a falcon proper, on a bordure gules eight bezants.

Nice cant!

* Gwen verch David. Badge. (Fieldless) An oak leaf within and conjoined to an annulet vert.

* Gwen verch David. Release of Badge.
(Fieldless) On a sheep statant argent an oak leaf vert.

* Jayne Hunter. Badge. (Fieldless) In saltire two lightning bolts argent, overall a mouse rampant contourny Or.

There is a step from core practice for lightning bolts not used as part of a thunderbolt.

* Johannes van Aemstel. Name and device. Per pale argent and gules, a crow rising sable and a lion contourny argent and on a chief sable three saltorels counter-compony argent and gules.

Nice Dutch name for mid-15th century Antwerp!

* Lilavati of Lochac. Badge. Quarterly Or and purple, a lozenge counterchanged.

Nice badge!

* Morgan of Ashley. Acceptance of transfer of badge from Sorle Maknicoll and Emelyn ffayrhome. (Fieldless) On a sun Or a hawk's head erased gules.

* Nest Brenhowel. Name and device. Argent, a griffin sable maintaining a heart enflamed to chief gules.

The submitter requested authenticity for "Neutral or feminine preferred". This name meets that request. It is an authentic feminine name for the 1290s in Wales.

Nice device!

* Oddr Manaskagi. Name and device. Vert, an apple tree eradicated argent fruited gules between in fess two chalices Or, a ford proper.

Submitted as Oddr Mánaskeggr, this name is not constructed correctly.

The submitter intended this byname to mean 'moon bearded' and provided evidence of Old Norse kennings with similar poetic meanings. However, no documentation was provided and none could be found for kennings being used as bynames in Old Norse. Bynames in Old Norse are prosaic in nature, not poetic. Further, the submitter requested authenticity for "12th to 15th C Nordic"; as documented, all of the elements are dated between the 9th and 11th centuries in Old West Norse from Iceland.

To retain as much of this name as possible and attempt to meet the authenticity request, we have changed this name to Oddr Manaskagi for registration. The given name Oddr dates to the 15th century in Diplomatarium Norvegicum. The byname Manaskagi is a constructed 15th century Middle Icelandic toponymic byname meaning 'Mani's cape'. This pattern follows the examples found in Lind Dopnamn, s.n. Mani:

Manalæker 'Mani's creek' 1486, Manaskal 'Mani's valley' 1461/1497, and Managhærði 'Mani's enclosure/enclosed place' 1412. All of the deuteronyms in these compound toponyms are inherited from Old Icelandic words. Skagi is an Old Icelandic word found in Cleasby-Vigfusson, s.v. skagi, meaning 'a low cape or ness'. Therefore, while we do not have any direct evidence of the byname Manaskagi, we can with reasonable certainty say it is plausible for 15th century Icelandic. We cannot consider it authentic at this time.

The submitter might be interested to know that the name Oddr máni skegg would be an Old Norse name with the same elements that means "Odd moon beard". However, this name is only dated as late as the 11th century, which is a hundred years too early for the authenticity request. Another authentic option using these same name elements is Oddur Mandne, which is attested to 15th century Sweden. If the submitter is interested in either of the names Oddr máni skegg or Oddur Mandne, they may make a request for reconsideration.

* Oksina Myshkina. Name change from Olympia of Southron Gaard.

Submitted as Oksina Myshkinova, this name is not constructed correctly. The byname Myshkin is already a masculine patronymic byname, derived from the Russian word for 'mouse' mysh and its diminutive 'little mouse' myshka. The expected feminine form of this byname would be Myshkina. We have therefore made this change for registration.

The submitter might be interested to know that other possible names based on this byname would include: Oksina Myshkinicha, Oksina Myshkova, and Oksina Myshkina doch. If they would like any of these options instead, they may make a request for reconsideration.

The submitter's previous name, Olympia of Southron Gaard, is retained as an alternate.

* Olivia la Halconera. Name and device. Azure, a peacock contourny Or between three crescent moons argent.

This name combines an Italian given name and a Spanish byname, an acceptable lingual mix per SENA Appendix C.

* Primislava of Rowany. Name change from Primislava Wandrownyczka.

Rowany is the registered name of an SCA branch.

The submitter's previous name, Primislava Wandrownyczka, is retained as an alternate.

* Sorle Maknicoll and Emelyn ffayrhome. Transfer of joint badge to Morgan of Ashley. (Fieldless) On a sun Or a hawk's head erased gules.

* Thomas Boardmakere. Alternate name Oddr of Mordenvale.

Mordenvale is the registered name of an SCA branch.

* Tomás de Calatrava. Name and device. Azure, a Paschal lamb regardant proper and on a chief gules three Maltese crosses Or.

Nice late 15th century Spanish name!

Documentation supporting an Individually Attested Pattern of charged gules chiefs on azure fields was provided by the submitter and commenters, allowing registration of this device.

A Paschal lamb proper is argent, haloed Or, with an argent banner charged with a red cross throughout; the halo may also have an optional red cross, and is treated as argent for the purposes of contrast and conflict. We direct Palimpsest to add this information to Table 4 of the Glossary of Terms.

The banner of a Paschal lamb, when plain or charged with a cross throughout, is part of the definition of the charge and does not need to be conflict checked as independent armory.

* Wulfric h{y-}regilda. Name and device. Per pale sable and argent, two wolves combattant regardant within an orle of ravens rising wings displayed counterchanged.

The Da'ud code {y-} represents a lowercase Latin letter y with a macron over it.

There were no returns on Pends. Huzzah!

The accompanying letter is as follows:

From Wreath: On Caucasian

The word Caucasian as a racial classification is based on obsolete 18th century ideas about race, and the history of its use is steeped in racist ideologies and policies. As such, we are retiring use of the word when describing the proper colour of human skin for any registrations made on or after this date, and will be using the terms White or light-skinned, as described on the January 2021 Cover Letter, in its place. We will not be updating registered blazons that use this word unless they are already being reblazoned for some other reason. We direct Palimpsest to update Table 4 of the Glossary of Terms accordingly.

 From Wreath: On Interlocking Heads

This month we were asked to consider a submission involving the motif of interlocking animal heads. In the defining instance of this motif, we wrote:

A rare but notable practice in German heraldry was to have charges issuant symmetrically from either side of a line of division, forming the appearance of a complex line of division. When formed of animal's heads, the jaws of each head would frequently interlock in the center of the line of division. The practice appears to always have the same type of charge repeated on each side of the division, rather than different charges on each side. For SCA purposes, each submission following this pattern should be treated as two separate charges, each issuant from the line of division, with the type of field division (per bend, per fess, per pale, etc.) dictating the angle of the charges issuant therefrom. [Sigrothr Melrakki, 03/2018, A-Artemisia]

Two beast's heads issuing from the line of division without their facial features interlocking is also a period motif, and doesn't seem to have been interchangeable with the interlocking version. Under our current pattern for blazoning these there is no way for an artist to tell which depiction is intended.

To that end, and based on the German blazon term [plural animal name]+schnitt, going forward we will blazon the interlocking depiction as [animals]-cut tincture1 and tincture2. For example, two lion's heads interlocked in argent and azure would be blazoned lions-cut argent and azure.

Period examples all have the head of the first tincture inverted and facing sinister, and the head of the second tincture upright and facing dexter. This, and its mirror image (blazoned as [animals]-cut reversed) will both be registerable. Other orientations must be attested to be registered.

Period examples also show the dividing line meeting the edges of the field anywhere from per pale, through per bend sinister, to per fess, even in different renditions of the same armory. Much like charges in annulo, we will not grant difference for the exact orientation or arrangement of the heads, the direction they face, or the direction of the line of division.

Because of the high degree of complexity of the line dividing the two tinctures, this motif will only be allowed when there is good contrast between the sections. Armory using this motif will not be allowed with secondary charges, aside from peripheral ordinaries which will be allowed on a case-by-case basis.

These designs will be considered primarily as a field division. We decline to rule at this time on what difference would be counted between these designs and armory with distinct charges on a divided field. We also decline to rule at this time on what difference would be counted between these motifs using different animal's heads.

Existing registrations using this motif will be reblazoned accordingly.

 From Wreath: On Conflict Checking Leaves

This month we considered two items where the shape of the leaf was a key factor in determining conflict. The conflict-checking of leaves has, for decades, been a complex, challenging process, with all the relevant decisions found in precedent, and no way to determine conflict between two types of leaf not mentioned in precedent. To simplify this process, and to provide a unifying framework for future decisions, we are classifying the types of leaf as follows:

- "Leaf-shaped" - oval or pointed oval, may or may not have serrated edges
 - * Includes default leaf, aspen, birch, blackthorn, elm
- "Heart-shaped" - generally round shape, may be pointed, with a distinct concavity by the stem, includes arrow-shaped leaves
 - * Includes linden, water lily, lady's mantle, paulownia, morning glory
- "Maple-shaped" - roughly as tall as they are wide, a few large lobes that radiate from where the leaf meets the stem
 - * Includes maple, sycamore, fig, ivy, grape, strawberry
- "Oak-shaped" - taller than they are wide, multiple lobes or points that issue from a central vein
 - * Includes oak, holly, dandelion, acanthus
- "Fronde-shaped" - multiple long leaflets issuing from a central stalk
 - * Includes palm fronds and ferns

Leaves in different categories have a DC between them. Leaves within the same category will generally conflict with each other. Leaves that fit in more than one of the above categories will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

This policy was determined by a thorough review of all past leaf precedents, and aligns with nearly all of them. Any past precedents that disagree with this policy are hereby overturned.

Notes:

- These categories are not taxonomic classifications - some types of oak leaves, for example, better fit "Leaf-shaped"; these would be considered leaf-shaped leaves for the purposes of conflict.
- Most compound or pinnate leaves are blazoned as sprigs of leaves, and the individual leaflets are blazoned as leaves. The most common exception is strawberry leaves, where the term "leaf" is always used to refer to the cluster of three leaflets.

We direct Palimpsest to update SENA Appendix M with this information.

* From Wreath: On Emblazoning Leaves

Because nature has no respect for our nice little boxes, there are some leaves that have a lot of variety in shape, even on the same branch. In these cases the most distinctive and recognizable of their shapes should be used in emblazons: for example, a leaf blazoned as a holly leaf but drawn without notches, even though this appearance is common in nature, is not identifiable as holly and will be blazoned simply as a leaf.

* From Laurel: How Much Is Too Much?

Recently, a rather large Letter of Intent revealed some confusion about the acceptable number of items. As it turns out, submissions heralds in different kingdoms have been operating under different views of how long a LoI may be; and while most agree that there is a maximum number of items, this isn't written down anywhere accessible.

One thing to consider here is that kingdoms sometimes have reasons to send large letters. Most often this happens after major wars, although in our history other causes have also resulted in massive amounts of submissions getting to the College at the same time. However, another aspect of this is that it does no-one any particular good to swamp the college with submissions on which people cannot realistically comment: making properly informed decisions depends on commentary, and the heralds who provide that commentary have only limited resources. Burning out commenters is highly undesirable.

Therefore, any Letters of Intent submitted after the end of March will be limited to a maximum of 50 items per kingdom per month, either names or armory. Please note that this likely means somewhat fewer numbered items, as having both a name and the attached device will count for two items. In rare cases, Laurel may grant an exception to this limit. To make this information more easily accessible, we will ask the approval of the Board of Directors for adding a section to the end of Administrative Handbook V.B.2:

i. Number of Items - A kingdom is limited to a maximum of 50 items per month. A name and any attached piece of armory are counted separately, even if they are presented together in OSCAR. If necessary, remaining submissions should be pushed to the next month according to a policy set by the Principal Herald.

From Pelican: SENA PN1B2c - Lingua Societatis Allowance

PN1B2c allows descriptive and locative bynames to use the lingua Societatis Allowance. Appendix B makes it clear that occupational bynames are not descriptive bynames; however, precedent allows occupational bynames to use the lingua Societatis Allowance. In order to make clear that occupational bynames may use this allowance, Palimpsest is directed to update the first sentence of PN1B2c to:

We allow the registration of translations of attested and constructed descriptive, occupational, and locative bynames into standard modern language forms.

We wish to thank M{a-}lik ibn Q{a-}rin ibn al-M{a-}

-}rid{i-} ibn Jinn{i-} al-'Abd{a-}r{i-} al-Shayb{a-}n{i-} for bringing this issue to our attention.

* From Pelican: Article Errata

This month we considered a submission that used "Jewish Names in the World of Medieval Islam" compiled by Yehoshua ben Haim haYerushalmi (<https://heraldry.sca.org/names/Jewish/Cairo/index.html>). This article capitalizes the articles ben, bint, bat, bar, ibn and al-. None of these articles should be capitalized for submission unless documentation for that capitalization in period sources can be provided at the time of submission.

In addition, this work discusses use of the article ibin. This is a typo for the standard ibn. We will not register the article ibin as of publication of this letter.

Palimpsest is directed to update the Standard Source "Errata" article with these changes.

Congratulations to all those whose names and devices were registered and keep sending in those submissions.

Chamberlain for Their Royal Highnesses

Good Morning Lochac,

I am Count Alain Quartier, resident of the peaceful and mercantile Barony of St Florian de la Riviere and it is my pleasure to serve as chamberlain to Their Royal Highnesses, Bain and Iglesia.

To that end, if you have any event invitations, enquiries, offers of assistance, or any other relevant communication for Their Royal Highnesses please contact me on lochacchamberlain44@gmail.com

Please note you may see the email listed in posts change as we gain access to the official accounts, but this one will always be monitored.

There may be the odd occasion my mundane work causes me to be unavailable for a short period, during which time the Vice Deputy Sub Assistant to the Chamberlain, Countess Safiya bint 'Abd al-Shahid will ensure the smooth operation of the office.

If you could please distribute this message as needed to your local group, that would be greatly appreciated.

Yours in service,
Count Alain Quartier

Notice Board

Greetings Lochac,

We've had a date change for the April Board of Directors' Meeting.

The new date is April 14, 2024.

I realize that for some it may not be possible at this time to do an update, but if it is possible to update your files, please do so.

YIS

The SCA AUS Ltd Board

Are you our New Kingdom Chirurgeon?

Greetings!

Do you know your clavicle from your clavichord? If you do, now is the time to add a white coat to your wardrobe and step up to be the next Kingdom Chirurgeon, the administrative officer overseeing first aid for the Kingdom.

Key requirements:

- You will need to be a current SCA member, 18 years or older
- Reliable and responsive access to email and internet connection
- Ability to keep on top of a variety of related administrative tasks

You may not think that you are the right person for this job, but if your friends forward you a copy of this notice, pay attention to them! And if you know someone who you think would be good in the job, do them (and all of us) a favour - ask them to apply.

Key elements of the job:

- Management and development of rostered Chirurgeons across groups and events

- Monitoring the recording/reporting injuries and medical treatments, plus ensuring compliance with relevant mundane requirements
- Developing appropriate resources to support the first aid role

You'll find more detailed information about this role in the Officer Job Descriptions Document at <https://seneschal.lochac.sca.org/resources#officer>

Please send your applications by 3 April 2024 to seneschal@lochac.sca.org with a complimentary copy to chirurgeon@lochac.sca.org. Do please include your membership number, mundane and SCA names, and any relevant experience, along with any important plans or great ideas you would seek to enact if successful in winning the role.

If you would like to know more about the job, or to discuss how you see yourself taking it forward, I would love to hear from you!

Yours in Service,

Gomez

This is the largest event for the Society of Creative Anachronism in Queensland, featuring battles, tournaments, merchants and markets, camping, classes and courts, entertainments and much more.

The Barony of River Haven are the happy host for this years GNW and hope to see and catch up with as many of our friends as possible. Our aim this year is to build on the amazing work done by last years Stewards who brought GNW back from the Covid abyss and ran the first long event for GNW that we have had since Covid first hit.

We are trying a new site this year which has bunks, flat grounds, an amazing kitchen and so much more.
