Words from the Crown

Warmest Greetings to the Populace of Atenveldt,

As the drums of war grow louder, We have begun to see minor skirmishes to the east. We have pushed the raider back. We are preparing to send armies forth to battle the mighty dragons of the Middle realm and tigers of the East. On Our campaign east We will join up with brothers in arms of the Outlands and Calontir to form a Western Alliance and share in the spoils of the East from the battlefields of Pennsic.

As is tradition, before We embark on this campaign We partake in Our own mock war, a Fabric War! The battles for the best silks, linen, and wool were waged, We met with our peer circles and began the contemplation of elevating new peers. As the war of fabric came to a close, we enjoyed the delights of the Topkapi Palace at the Middle East Feast. Her Majesty was deeply moved by this homage to her homeland.

Our neighboring kingdom of the Outlands graciously invited Us to the coronation of TRM Hawkrill and Adrien as they begin their reign in the savage Outlands. As always the hospitality of the Kingdom of the Outlands was legendary. Must also take a moment to give Our love and support to Fjolverker and Melissa as they relinquish the Outlands crown and retire to their country estates.

As the Atenveldt sun endures, so do We, following the rumors of war and joining in the western Alliance as We travel to the battlefields of Pennsic. We will return shortly, victorious, with the spoils and memories of the east. As the summer wanes, We continue Our search for heirs for the weight of the crown is a heavy one and no King rules forever.

From the Society President

Words from the President, SCA Inc.

The world is at our fingertips, and we have access to a wealth of information. The absence of that information leads to speculation with varying degrees of accuracy. There is a demand and expectation for transparency in the SCA when things go wrong. As the newest person in a Corporate role, it might help the membership to give my perspective.

This is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization. The SCA does not reveal everything people want to know for legal and safety reasons. To understand the SCA's policy on transparency about sanctions, it helps to understand how things currently work. Sanctions are official actions that affect someone's SCA participation. We have our governing documents, core values, kingdom laws, and handbooks. They guide Corporate and define the structure of the game we play. The rules apply to everyone without exception. Sometimes, people break the rules for whatever reason, and we must take action.

An issue that the Board of Directors (BoD) acts on requires careful consideration. All the supporting documentation is collected. The office of the Society Seneschal puts it together into an extensive report. They present it to the BoD. The public has a blurry snapshot of an issue to base their assumptions on. The Board has an entire photo album of varying quality to make their decision with. The last report I looked at was 40 pages, and then there were all the supporting documents as well. It takes time to gather and put together information. Really, you should thank the Society Seneschal if you ever see Mistress Elasait in the wild. The Board makes the decisions with advice from the Corporate Officers. If someone is sanctioned, they are always told why they were sanctioned.

Now to the main point: transparency. There are some things to consider when it comes to that.

Please allow me to use a metaphor about the BoD and Corporate Officers. One person in a group of 7 is ordering a pizza. Someone may have a gluten allergy. Someone could be vegan. Someone else would rather have tacos. Three other folks are there telling them about the different options. It would take a lot of convincing to get everyone to agree on the same pizza. The group orders pizza often. But, every six months, a person is replaced with someone else with a different diet.

The SCA needs the information we've gathered to be accurate. This is because the decisions affect many people. We must protect the confidentiality of anyone who comes forward with information. We take precautions to protect revealing information. This is for the safety of those people.

The primary reason the SCA does not comment on sanctions is to protect the organization. The Sanctions Procedures and Policies Manual outlines the current policy. It says not to comment on sanctions.

There is a balance between transparency and risk. Given what you now know about the process, I want to hear from the membership about where the SCA can improve its transparency. You can email me at president@sca.org. I would like to note that it takes time to change policy. Although I do not make the decisions in this area, I can present to the BoD what the membership wants to see.

Bao Pham

There was once a mighty star who ruled the northern skies. Polaris was convinced that he was the brightest and strongest of all of the heavens. One day, it came to his ears, that there was one brighter and stronger than he, but though he searched, he could not see it. Gradually, he heard through the grapevine, that a lovely maiden had possession of one brighter than he, though this star dominated the southern skies. He was determined to find out if that were true.

Come one and all to the third Polaris War in the beautiful lands of the Barony of Granite Mountain and help Polaris determine who is the brightest and strongest amongst the heavens! Contests will include bardic, rapier, armored combat, archery, and thrown weapons. We will have arts and science classes, as well. For those that wish to participate, Saree Saturday is returning! Join us for a long weekend of revelry and fun! (More information will be forthcoming about specific events and times. Keep tuned to the book of faces.)

Greetings unto the Noble Populace of Atenveldt! The Premier Barony of the Known World will be hosting its Birthday event on September 21st, AS LIX (2024). We invite everyone to join us for this celebration full of merriment and revelry!!

What kind of merriment you might ask? The dancing kind! We will be hosting an Italian Renaissance Masquerade Ball, including buffet style food. The menu will be announced at a later date, but the buffet is included in your site fee. We will have options for alternative diets (vegan, gluten free) but if you need something specific, please reach out to our Feast Steward. Feel free to bring your own feast gear, but the buffet will be mostly small, finger foods and bite sized pieces so you are able to snack throughout the day and stay on the move so you can enjoy...

The dancing!! Following our opening Court, we will begin by teaching traditional Court dances followed by an afternoon of open floor and called dancing! So often, when court dancing is done at an event all the time is spent teaching, so we will make sure there is plenty of time to both teach and dance! And if you are interested in performing music for part of our day of dancing, please reach out to the event Steward.

This event will also host our Annual Nobility of Love competition! Outgoing Nobility of Love will host a tournament of grace that showcases the love you have for your partner. Anyone is welcome to compete, as long as you love <3 (our current Nobility of Love are father and son!)

We will be having a "Best Masquerade Mask" competition, to be judged by Their Excellencies! So make or buy the coolest, most unique mask you can for a chance to win.

And no day of courtly grace is complete without an Arts and Sciences Showcase or a Largesse Derby! Bring your best for the A&S display, show off the thing that really shouts ATENVELDT to you. For the largesse derby, bring your art that you would like to donate to the Barony and the populace will vote on their favorite. The winner will get to choose an item off the table.

This event will include the in-person polling for our next Baron and Baroness (on-line polling will be during the week leading up to the event). Keep an eye out on our social media, website and the Palm Prints for Letters of Intent from our B&B Candidates.

Have you ever had that idea for a dream dish or even an entire feast, but you know that the average SCAdian would not eat it or it is sadly out of the budget? Then this is the event for you! We are planning an event for you to come teach, cook, and share what makes your SCA cooks' heart sing! We designed an entirely new way of experiencing how to plan, prepare, teach, and share dishes at the Girl Scout Amahami Outdoor Center the weekend of August 30-September 2, 2024. This event is a fantastic opportunity to turn your dream feast and/or dish into an exciting new class! Let others learn about your reasons why, your methods, and your recreated recipes and techniques. We encourage teaching as part of your dish preparation and invite students to work beside you.

We asked have you ever:

- wished to make a dish using an uncommon ingredient?
- worked on a researched dish that was too expensive for a feast?
- wanted to cook it all over period heat sources? (Fire!)
- wanted to try cooking venison, rabbit, or fish but could not?
- done a deep dive into a culture or region and desired to present a complete meal they would have eaten?

Your concerns:

- Traveling with food from great distances.
- Cost of ingredients.
- Accommodations
- Only one feast/dinner.

Our solutions:

- Four (or more!) smaller feasts on Saturday.
- One Grand Feast on Sunday.
- This is a Girl Scout camp so there are lodges, several cabins, platform tents, and tenting space available for you.
- You provide the menu so that we can purchase your ingredients and have them on site for you!
