Summis Desiderates Affectibus.

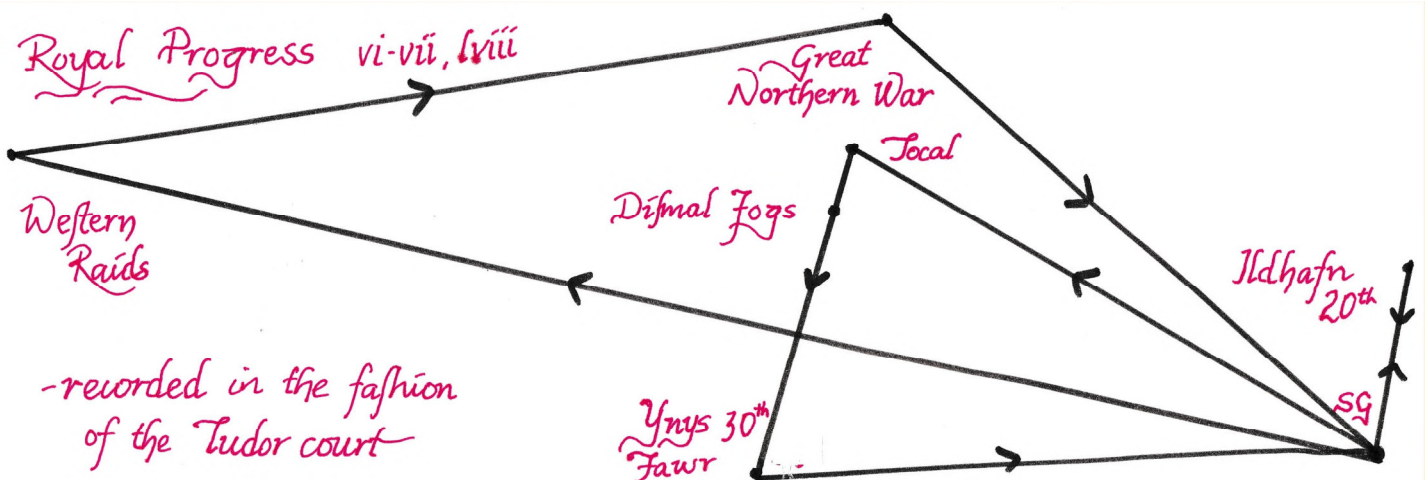

Know all who hear, see or read this that it would greatly please the Crown for you to undertake the following worthy challenges in this our new year of anno 58 and the first full month of our reign:
 Item: ASPIRE to be the best that you can be, whether by trying a new art or combat form, serving the Kingdom as officer or steward, challenging yourself with an arts competition or Crown Tournament.
 Item: INSPIRE others to do likewise, encourage a deputy or student, teach a skill or art, recognise and honour those who have been inspirational to you and others, model the chivalry and courtesy we hold so dear.
 Item: RESPIRE, as in take a breath before you react to consider if what you intend to do or say or write will make Our Kingdom stronger, kinder, a better place to be - and if not, think again.

Hath he another trick up his sleeve?

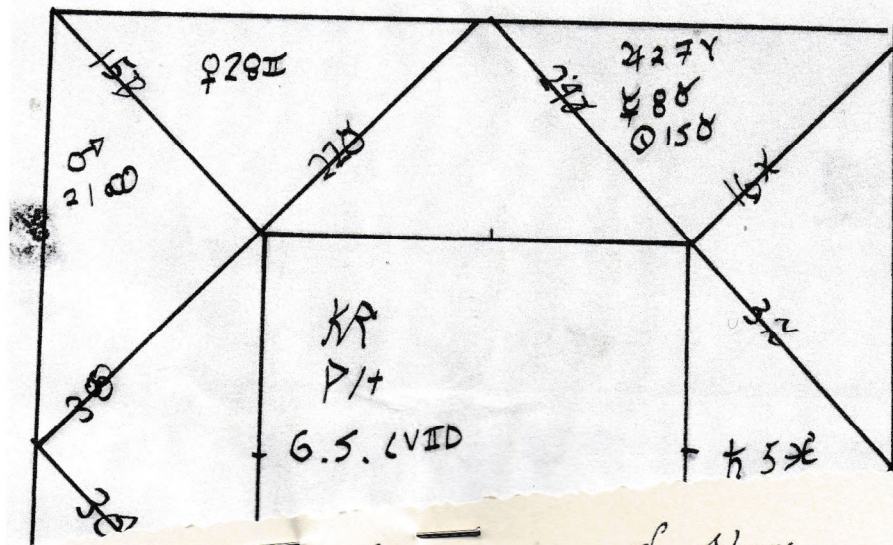

Lord Thorbjorn Bjarnylr, after Lucas van Leyden.

MUS UNI NON FIDIT ANTRO.

Being the Royal Progress in the months of June to July of some 2,870 leagues as the crow flies, beginning with Her Majesty's long journey to Western Raids, there to welcome Donnchadh Baillie into the ranks of the Masters of Defence, thence unto Great Northern War where His Majesty would play upon the field. Then a short sojourn back to the holmlands, thereafter the King & Queen will accept the surrender of the baronial coronets of Mordenvale from the most excellent Thomas Bacchus and Mildryth Thomaswyf and bestow them upon Gavriil Slotkovich and Kolfinna Burlufotr at that Barony's Tocal gathering. Huzzah to those who serve the Crown! And on through the gentle mists of Dismal Fogs to further celebrations of long-standing baronies in the seventh month.

From a certain learned gentleman in whom we place much Store.

'The stars smile upon the reign to come, with Venus, planet of peace, happiness and good things, sitting harmoniously in Gemini, and there well placed to Jupiter, that planet of Kingship that sits in Aries. Venus in the eleventh house promises a beautiful and happy reign, while stern Saturn shall be entertained and bedazzled by Mercury, with learnings as to buildings, walls and dykes expected to advance. The stars themselves smile upon the reign to come, and all are called upon to respect this will their respect to the laws and customs of this kingdom'.

Dearest mother, you will be pleased to hear that at Coronation Her Majesty spoke highly of Mistress Rowan and commanded all who know that fine lady recall unto her some goodly encounter from across her years of service and teaching, for honours of fair words last longer than those of gold. In Gildenwick the Queen was rained upon by soft rats, and a verse added to the well-known tune: 'Here's a health to Her Majesty that we love so well, for wit and her wisdom there's none can excel. His Majesty now has a song too, extolling his prowess in arms and though musicians are known to exaggerate, especially where patronage may be had (pipers do worse when promised fees are left unpaid!), these words sounded true. From on the road once more, I remain your dutiful daughter Jonet

I am Don Diccon Shorthand/Richard Arthur, the new kingdom Constable.

I have been a member since the early 1990s and I was an active fencer for the first 20 years of membership, though health and family reasons have stopped this most pleasurable of experiences. I have spent all my time in the barony of Politarchopolis, even when it was a Shire. In my mundane life I grew up in Tasmania, lived in QLD in Brisbane and Townsville, and in the ACT where I live today. In my working life I was a soldier and worked at the Australian Parliament.

I also need a drop dead deputy in case I do die or become more infirm. If you wish to take on this role please email me at address below. If you need any assistance or wish to discuss an issue. I can be contacted at constable@sca.lochac.org.

Greetings Lochac!

I am after a very specific deputy. Specifically a Good Gentle from the Crescent Isles.

Those who attend events & take pictures have to be very aware of the New Zealand Privacy laws that surrounds sharing of pictures on social media. However, Lochac needs to promote itself (and show everyone else the awesome events that happen in NZ) so there have been changes happening.

This deputy would ideally be able to communicate well, know & recognise many people across the NZ groups, and know how social media works.

Notice Board

This deputy that is needed will be responsible for:

- 1) Knowing the relevant NZ Privacy law, and how it is to be enacted.
- 2) Work with local relevant officers to help meet compliance with the law and SCANZ policy while using social media.
- 3) Create and maintain a database of permissions given, and store it for the relevant period.
- 4) Provide content to myself to share across the Lochac Social Media platforms (FB, Instagram, Twitter, and TikTok) and Pegasus.

This may seem daunting, but your Kingdom needs you! Providing content means 10-15 pictures that showcase what happened at an event, any recorded video that could delight, all while making sure the privacy of all the Nobles of the Crescent Isles are met. I am happy to discuss any questions you may have & can be contacted on media@lochac.sca.org.

Thank you!

Yours,
Miriam bat Shimeon,
Lochac Social Media Officer

Greetings Lochac,

At the Coronation of King Ratbot and Queen Katherine, the Queen was deeply surprised at the end of Coronation Court by the sudden appearance of her middle child, Lord Pippin Baskin. With the King's permission, Lord Pippin addressed the assembled populace, initially in Te Reo Maori and then in English, and presented ceremonial gifts of his own devise to Their Majesties. In doing so, he created a special taonga for future Crowns who hail from the Crescent Isles.

You can see the video of his address here:

Greetings Lochac,

This is a periodic reminder to all the following gentles:

- Crown and Landed Baronages
- Kingdom officers and group Seneschals
- Other group officers, especially those with deputies or downlines, i.e. people who report to them
- Certain officials of SCA Ltd or SCANZ

Thanks to The Regnumator, you all have Special powers! That's because, when you log in to your country's Registry (registry.sca.org.au or registry.sca.org.nz), you'll find "Officer functions" and "Reports" menus, which give you useful admin powers and very helpful information.

When you select either menu, you'll see still more options. The precise details will depend on what role (s) you're holding at present. For example, when selecting Officer functions, everyone sees "My own warrants", which allows you to manage how you are listed in Regnum entries, and how you may be contacted.

Seneschals and certain other officers will see a lot more, including: Search Members, Search Officers, Manage Warrants - and even a link to the Appointinator, which will save you oodles of time when you need to advertise for a successor.

So: if you hold one of the roles or offices noted above, please make a point of logging into Registry and having a little explore. It should be a rewarding experience.

From the Chronicler

Greetings Lochac!

How, dear readers, has it already been a month since the last edition of Pegasus? It feels like life has hardly given me a chance to think about anything SCA-related, let alone attend any events. Instead, I've been afflicted by my ever-present ill health, and notably, a hot water heater that burst and flooded our carpeted floor. I think two carpet replacements in four months has to be some kind of record. I always enjoy the chance to live vicariously through the work of the dedicated photographers of Lochac, though. Many of them post to Lochac's Facebook group, and it's my not-so-secret pleasure to peruse these photos, admiring events from far-flung parts of the kingdom. And the garb. Maybe mostly the garb.

Speaking of garb, I've really enjoyed the recent FAFO Garb Challenge group created by Maitre Charles de Bourbon. The group encourages making and displaying period-ish garb inspired by cultural identifiers like LGBTQIA+ pride, BIPOC pride, disability pride, etc. All the beautiful, colourful garb is both incredibly fun and really heartwarming to see. As the group's description says, 'Marginalized communities are under attack, and right now representation is more important than ever. Represent as a member of a community or as an ally'. So it also strikes me as a nice way to fight back in a small way against the issues in the DEI column. I think it might be time to get started on that rainbow I've had planned for a while...

Finally, in lieu of much else to say, and because someone gave this nerd free reign to talk about whatever she'd like, I want to talk about the recently "discovered" book of hours of Thomas Cromwell, the very same one displayed so prominently in Holbein's portrait of him. Having period pictorial evidence of an extant object is very rare, and always so exciting! You can find more information and lots of pictures here, here, and here!

Salome

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusivity Spotlight

June 18th is the International Day for Countering Hate Speech.

While only its second year of observance by the UN, it is particularly relevant as technology and new methods of communication amplify and spread hate speech and misinformation. Avoiding misinformation and critical thought are essential parts of both digital literacy and historical research and recreation, and therefore have relevance in both the SCA and mundane world.

Countering hate speech is a year-round issue, but it's also pertinent that the USA - where the SCA was founded and the majority of its member base is - celebrates Pride Month in June. The Human Rights Campaign, has, in this same month, declared a state of emergency for LGBTQIA+ people in the US. The SCA's core values commit to a safe, inclusive environment for its members, but hate speech nevertheless continues to exist. We as members of the SCA must continue to fight against it in our spheres and beyond.

For more information on countering hate speech, see the un.org/en/observances/countering-hate-speech and un.org/en/hate-speech/take-action/engage
