Royal Message

Good friends, nobles, and gentle folk of Lochac, lend us thine ears!

The hour draws nigh when we shall step aside, yielding the throne to our noble heirs, who shall, with courage and wisdom, guide Lochac ever onward.

Before we part, let us grant you one final missive, not merely as King Bain and Queen Iglesia, but as companions in a grand dream, whose heart beats strong in every one of you.

In our journey through the fair lands of Lochac, time and again we were met with virtues most noble - deeds of service, beauty in arts, and feats of might.

From Ildhafn and Southron Gaard, whose realms we shall carry in memory for their loveliness and warmth, to Ynys Fawr, that land of new growth where we found strength anew in our duty.

Mordenvale, you opened your gates thrice - College War, Tocal, and Spring War - welcoming us with a friendship bound by kindness and mirth.

Constanzia Moralez y de Zamora, Lochac

Reign of Bain I and Iglesia I

Rowany, thy grand ball, held at the humble request of a King, did most dearly honour a Queen; we are forever in your debt.

Let it be known to all that chivalry without love is as a ship without sail - find that love, be it for Queen, friend, noble cause, or our fair Kingdom Lochac, and let it guide thee as the North Star.

To the Colleges of Lochac, brimming with song, promise, and a spirit untamed - we thank you. You are the foundation upon which our future rises, young hearts aflame with enthusiasm and courage, eager to learn, to sing, to serve, and to one day lead.

Yours is a noble calling, to carry forth the dreams of Lochac into tomorrow, and in you we see the undaunted spirit that shall bear our Kingdom's banner for ages yet to come.

To Politarchopolis, where our heirs were revealed amid feasting resplendent, and to Stormhold, Krae Glas, River Haven, Innilgard, Yevania though your history was short, and the peaceful and mercantile people of St Florian who hosted tournaments, song, and dance worthy of the grandest halls, we say: a thousand thanks!

And now, as this missive reaches you, we make our way to the shores of Aneala, where more tales await to join the glorious tapestry of Lochac.

To each of you, fair Lochac, our deepest thanks. Your smiles, your spirit, and your steadfast hearts have lit our path, and humbly do we hope that, in some small way, we have helped fan the flames of friendship and love that shall light this Kingdom for ages to come.

Our beloved heirs, Prince Kitan and Princess Alesia, stand ready to continue this legacy, borne aloft by the labours of those who came before. Truly, we stand upon the shoulders of giants.

And to our household, our love and endless gratitude. To TH Grete the Amazing, whose strength and grace bore our burdens when they were heaviest, and to each soul who gave even the smallest service - know ye that without your hands and hearts, we should have achieved but half of what stands before us. This reign, this legacy, is as much yours as it is ours.

Thus, we say not farewell, but rather fare forward into the dawning of a new day. And may we, the folk of Lochac, find one another again on fields and feasts yet to come.

Long live Lochac!

Queen Iglesia and King Bain
Companions to the Dream

Crown Prince & Princess

Unto the most noble populace of this extraordinary Kingdom do Crown Prince Kitan and Crown Princess Alesia send our greetings.

It is not long now until we make our way to the fine lands of Burnfield where we look forward to gathering with their Majesties and, hopefully, many members of our populace to celebrate the end of a truly excellent reign and take the thrones for the first time.

Much preparation has been underway.

Many of the finest artisans of the kingdom have been hard at work weaving their magic to create garments themselves worthy of great acclaim. Our household is gathering and preparing, ready to serve. And we have taken this time to ruminate on the gravity of the responsibility that we will soon bear, tempered by some reminders that while this service is a burden it is also a joy.

We have been the beneficiaries of so many acts of service. The kindness, and generosity, of this populace astounds and humbles us. There is no doubt that this is a magnificent kingdom.

So, while we are sad that we will see the end of a truly wondrous reign, we are excited to put aside our normal roles and become a part of Lochac's story in this new way.

Soon after our coronation comes Fields of Gold XII in Politarchopolis, an event which is close to both of our hearts. There will be much fighting, feasting and fun on the agenda for us and we are very much looking forward to seeing the efforts of all those partaking of the combat and gentler arts at the event.

There is always just so much to see and do, but we are most excited to here that there will be a strong equestrian timetable, potentially with Lochac's first SCA joust.

From The Kingdom Exchequer

Greetings to the Crown, Nobles and Gentles of Lochac,

After much searching and discussion, I am pleased to announce, Master Nicodemus Novello, OP, as my replacement for the position of Chancellor of the Exchequer. The transition is likely to take place in late January 2025.

May I thank all of you who considered applying as well as those who contributed to the decision making through their thoughtful and inspired commentary.

This role is constant and has a range of challenges, and I have the confidence that Master Nico will continue to support the Reeves, the Crown and the populace in the wondrous way he always done.

Three Cheers!

TH Baroness Helouys le Poer

Chancellor of the Exchequer
Kingdom of Lochac

Deputy Exchequer - New Zealand

Greeting good gentles of the Crescent Isles,

If you're good with figures and can tell your percentages from your fractions, then you might be just the person needed to take over as Exchequer for the New Zealand part of the Kingdom.

The primary responsibilities include:

- * Appointing, training, guiding, and assisting the reeves of the Crescent Isles groups in managing their finances
- * Managing the Kingdom bank accounts in New Zealand
- * Sitting on the Lochac Council of the Purse
- * Maintaining the electronic systems used by New Zealand's reeves
- * Developing and maintaining financial procedures, and assisting the Chancellor of the Exchequer in the Kingdom of Lochac

Prior financial experience, either as a branch reeve or in the mundane world, could be considered a must-have. Experience with Xero in particular would also be extremely beneficial.

Other useful attributes include:

- * A desire to assist the amazing reeves of Lochac
- * Comfortable using computers and the numerous electronic tools at our disposal (a love of Excel would be a strong bonus)
- * A good head for numbers (although in all honesty, Xero and Excel do most of the hard work for you)
- * Able to devote several hours a week to the task.

You'll find more detailed information about this role in the Officer Job Descriptions document at: <https://seneschal.lochac.sca.org/resources#officer>

A successful applicant will be appointed as my deputy for a training period before stepping up at the end of my term in late January 2025. After this you will work with the incoming Exchequer.

If you are interested in serving the New Zealand part of the Kingdom in this critical role, please send your applications by Sunday 10th November 2024 to exchequer@lochac.sca.org, with a courtesy copy to nzdeputyexchequer@lochac.sca.org and seneschal@lochac.sca.org

Please include your membership number, mundane and SCA names, any relevant financial experience, and your general experience in the SCA - as well as outlining why you think you'd be suitable to the role. Appointment to the role will also require SCA NZ Committee approval.

If you have any questions regarding the role, its responsibilities and requirements - or indeed anything else - please don't hesitate to contact me at exchequer@lochac.sca.org

Yours in Service to the Crown of Lochac,

TH Baroness Helouys le Poer

Chancellor of the Exchequer

Alternative Crown Poll Results

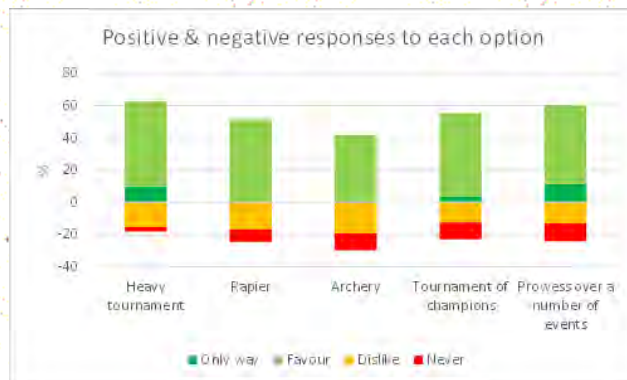

Greetings, Lochac, from the alternative Crown selection working group,

Our third and final poll closed on October 22nd. In it, we asked members which (if any) of several alternative methods of choosing Crown they would like to see tried. We also included the current heavy combat model as an option, so that members who regard it as the best or only way to choose Crown could make their feelings known.

Just over 60% of members responded, and here's what they said, in two different graphs: People liked the alternatives! For every option in the poll, the most common response was to favour it. Options were favoured about twice as often as they were disliked, with between 15% and 28% undecided in each case.

It's easier to see the relative popularity of each option if we stack the positive and negative reactions to them like this: you can immediately see that the current heavy combat model just edges out prowess over a number of events, with slightly more favourable responses and slightly fewer negative responses. Archery had the fewest respondents favour it, and the most dislike it (but even then, more people liked it than disliked it).

However, we've saved the most interesting graph for last. As you might have noticed from the first two graphs, everything was viewed positively, and the difference between support for the various options is not dramatic. That is because more than three-quarters of the members who completed the poll favoured multiple approaches to choosing Crown.

78% of people said that they favoured two or more ways of choosing Crown, and more than half favoured three or more. 1% of respondents disliked all the options listed. This makes us very glad that we did not take the approach of simply asking members whether or not they liked a single alternative method, since variety appears to be the most popular option. Incidentally – of those people who only said they favoured one way of choosing Crown, most were undecided about the alternatives. About 4% of people said they only favoured the current heavy combat model, and disliked all the alternatives.

We have reported our findings to the Crown, Australian Board, NZ Committee and US Board. More details on the results will be available on the Lochac website soon. With our job done, the working group would like to thank the members who helped us work out the detailed descriptions of each possible alternative, everybody who contributed to the discussion forum, the Crown, Board and Committee for their support, and most importantly everyone who took the time to complete our polls.

Yours in service,
Alaric, Joana, Gomez and Nico

The Board Needs You!

Greetings unto the populace of Lochac,

We have a number of casual vacancies for general members on the Australian Board of Directors to fill, and would like some enthusiastic and hard-working members of the populace to put up their hands.

The SCA Ltd Board is made up of a minimum of four executive members and at least one general board member. The maximum term for a Board Member is three years from the first AGM after they join the Board.

Expected commitment for Board members is on going engagement throughout the month, approximately 5hrs a week, and monthly meetings.

You are required to have a directors ID prior to being accepted as a member of the board. I'm happy to advise on how to obtain this should this be a perceived barrier to entry.

Please send applications to chair@sca.org.au or secretary@sca.org.au
