From Their Majesties

Greetings unto the people of Glorious Ealdormere,

The days are growing longer, and the days left in our reign are numbered. The snow has shifted to rain, and the gardens are changing from brown to green. Her Majesty ventured South to Gulf Wars and I, further afield to the land of coffee and monkeys.

Thank you to all that participated at Gulf Wars. Her Majesty had a great time and really appreciated your presence and efforts. Our numbers were few, but they were strong and united. Baron Richard served as a valiant war general, even being declared a “kill on sight target” by the enemy. Their Excellency Rigel was victorious in the Heroic Champions, and Viscount Belgar and Lady Isabeau crafted an impressive gift basket that reflected the many talents of Ealdormere. Thank you all for your time and efforts. You have done Ealdormere proud!

At the end of March, We ventured to the Shire of Trinovantia Nova to attend Kingdom A&S, host our kingdom moot, and recognize many worthy individuals. The event staff did a magnificent job of coordinating a busy and chaotic day. Congratulations to Noble Ascelyn of Ben Dunfirth, who was victorious in the pentathlon and is now the kingdom A&S Champion; Baron Rigel, who created a captivating Venetian apothecary; and Mistress Amelye Merriman, who joined the Order of the Laurel.

As Our reign comes to a close, We would like to extend Our thanks to those who supported Us every step of the way. Lord Conz, who oversaw Her Majesty’s retinue and ensured her needs were met at all times. Baron Alistair, who worked tirelessly to ensure everything was present when it was needed.

I would like to personally thank Baron Cesare, who was consistently present and would always twitch slightly when thanked for his assistance. The Rozakii family, who diligently performed whatever was needed, whether We realized it was needed or not. Their experience and counsel were invaluable in the success of Our reign. The number of other people who supported Our reign are too many to name. However, that does not diminish the important roles they played in Our reign.

In service,
King Crispin Gildensteed
and
Queen Anne von Talstadt

From The Kingdom Seneschal

Hello Sunshines!

We are finally out of the grip of winter and past all of spring's false starts and getting to warmer sunlight and colourful flowers. With so many of us sticking closer to home this year, it's well time to consider camping season! Have a look at your gear from last year, or consider what new things you might treat yourself to this year and get them all ready for the coming season.

It's never too early to consider getting event bids together for the Fall 2025 season and into 2026! Niche events covering a specific topic, virtual events, or big events that aim to draw the kingdom together, all of them are a delight and welcome on the calendar.

Kingdom events have a rotation to ensure that someone works on them, but they are always open to any group that might have a great idea or a plan! We're still looking for a bid for Fall

Coronation, and I've included the rotation for 25/26 below.

2025 Fall Coronation: Septentria

2026 Spring A&S: Ramshaven

2026 Spring Coronation: Shires (assist from Skraeling Althing)

2026 Spring Crown: Rising Waters

2026 Fall Coronation: Ben Dunfirth

2026: Fall Crown: Septentria

Finding good spaces that accommodate a variety of accessibility needs and a price point that doesn't make us all blanch are worth their weight in gold! Thank you to event staff across the kingdom who put in long hours finding those sites and then ensuring that we have events to enjoy. Your work is valued and appreciated.

In service,
Lucia de Moranza

From The Kingdom Exchequer

Greetings good gentles all from your Incoming Kingdom Exchequer,

I would like to thank Arlette of the Rozaki for her service as Kingdom Exchequer over the past 2 years and for being ready to answer questions both big and small about this role. She will be staying on as Deputy until a new Deputy can be found. To that end, the Office of the Kingdom Exchequer is currently looking for a new Deputy Kingdom Exchequer – Technical/Bookkeeper. Arlette thought it wise, in preparation to stepping down, to divide the office into two positions: Human Resources & Technical/Bookkeeping. The Technical/Bookkeeping role would, as it suggests, be responsible for keeping the ledgers up to date and understand the technical aspects of keeping the books in order. There are several places to look for resources for review if interested in serving as Deputy – Technical/Bookkeeping. The Library on the Ealdormere website is a good place to start as well as the SCA Library where you can find other Exchequer resources including the Exchequer Handbook.

I am also looking for someone to serve as a Deputy – Archivist. Ideally this would be someone who has already served as a Kingdom Exchequer in the past and is familiar with the emails and paperwork involved in the office. The role would primarily be to keep the Kingdom's digital documents organized to maximize the space we have online for keeping digital records.

If interested in either position, please submit a SCA resume along with your experience as a bookkeeper to Ealdormere.exchequer@gmail.com

In Service,
Lady Catherine Rose Lamont
Incoming Kingdom Exchequer

From The Kingdom Minister of Arts & Sciences

Greetings to all,

Huge thanks to all who made the Kingdom Arts and Sciences event so amazing: Baron Lassarhina, Mistress Amelye and Dùghlas Mór Mac Séamus of the event staff, Marina Ozeroski, Avelyn Wexcomne and Dorothea af Holm who helped organize judges and tracked scores, and the 46(!) judges who volunteered their time and expertise (especially those who valiantly stepped in to help at the last minute when weather played havoc with the schedule).

Most of all, thank you to all the people who researched, created, and answered questions about your projects. It was a joy to see all of your creativity on display for the whole Kingdom to admire.

There were five entrants in Pentathlon: Ascelyn of Ben Dunfirth, Beaudoin de Domrémy, Magareta Alexander, Rigel (Rozie) Galea, and Skalli Grimm. They demonstrated a broad range of skills, enthusiasm and learning, and I thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity to see their work.

Rigel was awarded both the Queen's prize and the Best in show from the judges. Beaudoin's doucettes were awarded the food and food pathways prize by Lucia d'Enzinas. House Salvaggi awarded their prize for best late period item to Isabell for her flamboyant German booty shorts.

Your new Kingdom A&S champion is Ascelyn. Please join me in congratulating them!

We also had 21 individual entrants:

Bjarn Aronson
Beathán MacFinnon
Daffyd ap Alun
Eleanor of Bonwicke
Dominus Howell James of Town's End
Jessica of Henderson
Eógan svartauga
Thomas Grocere
Jehanne de Bretagne
Artair Mac Artair of Orkney
Isabell von Sachen
Brenden Hunterson
John Spooner
Sebastian Antunes
Drizt
Shinen Urakus
Lucia de Enzinas
Marioun Golightly
Rigel (Rozie) Galea - who entered both Pentathlon and an individual item
Katherine Radford of York (display)

You proved once again that Arts and Sciences is truly the heart and soul, the best part of the SCA.

We did lose a few people due to weather, and we missed you. However, your safety was the priority and we look forward to seeing you all soon, and admiring your work once again.

Siglinde Harfnerstochter
Arts and Sciences Minister

From The Trillium Herald

Greetings Ealdormere,

First off I am happy to announce that Meister Dietrich von Sachsen, Edelherz Herald, will be my successor as Trillium Herald. My term ends in December so Dietrich will have plenty of time to get ready and will serve as Inland Seas Herald until then. Congratulations Meister Dietrich and thank you.

Secondly, I am seeking group donations for Ealdormere's heraldic submissions fund. Ealdormere is one of only three kingdoms in the SCA that provide free heraldic submissions, something that has been fantastic for the adoption of names and armoury, especially for newcomers, but for all of Ealdormere.

This does require us to occasionally seek donations and I humbly ask that if your local group is looking to continue something great for Ealdormere please consider supporting Ealdormere's heraldic submissions.

In service,

Matthäus

From The Kingdom Chronicle

Greetings to the Good Citizens of Ealdormere,

It has been almost a decade since last I sat at the desk of the Kingdom Chronicle. I'm thrilled at the increase in newsletter readership! Thank you to everyone who has welcomed The Tidings into their lives.

Much has changed in the world of electronics. Many of you are reading this newsletter in electronic format. If you wish to join the email list, please send me an email at: ealdormere.kchronicler@gmail.com.

Electronic newsletters will be sent directly to your inbox around the 11th of each month. Also, the Society newsletter webpage is also always available, for both members and non-members.

For those of you with electronic PDF newsletters: all links in The Tidings are intended to be live. Click on the website link in an event ad, and that should get you to the group's webpage.

Some of you have opted for paper copies to be mailed to you. Yes, that's still a thing. To give subscribers of paper copies a live link, I have included QR codes to important webpages.

Our new Kingdom Calendar secretary is Mistress Augusta Wayfarer. She is very approachable and eager to accept your event registrations, fight practice updates and meetings notices

Articles, artwork and photos for both The Tidings and Vox are always welcome!

Cheerfully in Service,
Duchess Kaylah

From The Kingdom Earl Marshal

Hello from my estates of Hundehugel.

We will shortly be entering that Happiest of seasons - melees and war! I would like to discuss most common issues we face in melee and war – Engagement and Disengagement.

Here in Ealdormere, we tend to follow the conventions used at Pennsic, but we are not obliged to do so. For any melee event, if the conventions for engagement are different than Pennsic, I encourage them to be listed on the event website for everyone to read and be familiar with.

Here are the Pennsic Engagement Rules:

Rule: Before you may strike your opponent, you must make them aware of your presence and intent by gaining engagement.

KEM Note: This should be self evident.

Rule: Engagement happens when you have made eye contact with your opponent AND they have acknowledged you as a threat by reacting to you in some way (examples include, but are not limited to nodding at you, reacting defensively to you, going on guard against you, or blocking a light blow).

KEM Note: Notice the part that says AND THEY HAVE ACKNOWLEDGED YOU AS A THREAT. If you run up on someone yelling their name, and they look at you, they have NOT acknowledged you as a threat. For all they know, you are telling they have an armour failure, or they are about to walk into a bees nest. They might think a marshal is yelling at them. Generally, acknowledgement is them reacting defensively.

Also note the part about 'a light blow'. Running up and clobbering someone in the head to gain engagement is not legal and the Marshallate will not be happy.

Rule: If an opponent seems to be ignoring your attempts to attract their attention you may NOT proceed to attack them. They may simply have felt they were bumped by their own team, not heard you, or already be engaged.

KEM Note: this does Not mean that you try for engagement by hitting them harder.

Rule: Deliberate refusal to engage an opponent is grounds for removal from the battle.

KEM Note: Refusing to engage is not an honourable tactic. Do not shame yourself, your Household, Barony, Knight or Kingdom by refusing engagement.

Rule: Deliberately striking from behind without gaining engagement is likewise grounds for removal.

KEM Note: Striking from behind is not an honourable tactic. Do not shame yourself, your Household, Barony, Knight or Kingdom by striking from behind without engagement.

Here is the Pennsic Disengagement Rule

Rule: A fighter is considered engaged until they have passed beyond the length of their opponent's weapons.

KEM Note: If you are standing next to a spear fighter and sword and shield fighter, you are engaged until you are outside the spear range.

If you have any questions on these rules, please let me know and I will be happy to talk some more about them.

Stay safe, have fun
Elizabeth
